Less jobless here than 3 years ago

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

"A recession is when your neighbor is out of work and a depression is when you are out of a job," one humorist has noted.

Officials here disagree whether we are in a recession, a depression or just a slump, but the job picture here is anything but humorous, they agree.

News of increasing unemployment in the Quad-City area this week was offset somewhat by announcements of a new compensation program which may provide additional benefits to some, and by the approval of a new public service employment program which may provide about 270 new jobs for this area.

Unemployment in the Quad-City area is the highest it has been in three years, but "we are not getting hit as hard as some other communities such as Belleville or Alton," officials of the Illinois Division of Unemployment Compensation, 1820 Cleveland Blvd., disclosed this week.

Last week 1,365 claims for unemployment benefits were processed by the local office as compared to about 2,900 in Belleville and about 3,400 in Alton. "Alton has nearly 2½ times as many claims as the Quad-Cities," Jerome P. Wade, unemployment compensation office manager, calculated.

While unemployment seems to be growing, the number of jobs available to applicants seems to be diminishing rapidly, Darrel Stites, employment service manager, observed.

Stites explained his office is a part of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Job Bank which normally has 3,000 to 5,000 job openings on file. In the last few weeks, the number of job openings has declined to 1,280 to 1,500 on any given day, he said.

Both Stites and Wade agreed that Quad-City area residents seem to be in a better position than residents of surrounding areas, including St. Louis and St. Charles.

"The steel industry seems to be holding strong and we have had very few applications from those in steel," Wade said, noting the exception of several hundred Granite City Steel employees who should return to work by the end of the year.

He displayed figures for December unemployment claims in past years and compared them to the 6,300 applications at the local office in December 1974.

"The 1974 figure is nearly double the 3,400 claims for benefits here in December 1973, but it should be remembered that the end of 1973 had a low number of applications, compared to other years. The normal is 4,000 to 5,000 applications," he said.

The figure for December 1972 was 5,000, about average. In 1971, the December total was up to 8,000, much higher than at present, it was noted.

That, and the 7,000 for December 1970 were credited, for the most part, to strikes and plant closings.

No specific figures for Madison County are available, but the December 1974 unemployment average for Madison and Bond counties combined was 8.3 per cent, the able-bodied working class, officials estimated. The average for St. Clair County was 9 per cent last month, but the month's average for the whole St. Louis metropolitan area was estimated at only 6.3 per cent.

While officials at the Granite City unemployment office reported, "for three weeks they (applications) have been rolling in pretty good," an official of the St. Clair County office in East St. Louis reported, "they (applications) are really flocking in now. Things are a lot better than last year. I think they are the worst in the eight years I have been here, as far as lines go."

The number of employees required to handle unemployment claims in the Granite City office now is 10, as six part-time employees have been called into full-time duty until the workload declines. Wade explained the part-time employees normally are called for full-time duty for a short period after the holidays, but it appears they will remain on full-time status longer than normal this year.

The workload has been further increased by a new federal benefit program which went into effect Monday. The new Special Unemployment Compensation Assistance (SUA) claim program now allows some persons who did not qualify before, or whose allowable benefits have been exhausted, to apply for benefits.

The SUA program, which is wholly federally funded, provides benefits for employees whose employers did not pay into the unemployment program. This includes local government employees, agricultural workers, household employees and others.

Self-employed persons do not qualify for SUA benefits. For those who have exhausted their allowable benefits, the program may provide additional money. The only difference is the allowable benefits are computed on the basis of money earned and paid into the program during the past 52 weeks, not in the past fiscal year. The fiscal year, from July 1973 to June 1974, is used in computing normal unemployment benefits.

The SUA program uses the same formulas and the same rules as those used for normal benefits, but the change in the base period of time may provide additional benefits for some.

The minimum requirement for the SUA program is an income of $800 or more in the 52 weeks prior to applying. At least $225 of the income must have been earned in a quarter other than the "high quarter" in which the largest portion of the 52 week income was earned, it was noted.

Additional help is expected in February for those who have exhausted normal benefits as the Extended Benefit Program is supposed to go into effect. Details of that program have not been released, but persons on SUA who qualify for the Extended Benefit Program likely will be switched to that Do planners darken local job outlook?

Already faced with an economic recession, is Madison County destined for a depression in future months and years because of the direction it is being led by planners?

This painful question plagued a pancakes-and-eggs gathering here Wednesday. The guest speaker, Theodore Mikesell, saw the pain on many of the faces and quipped that "if misery loves company" he was in the right place.

As executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, he guides plans that attempt to bridge the gap between local wishes and the dictates of federal and state governmental agencies.

Told of repeated instances in which goals and studies that SIMARPC has issued or prepared take a negative stand on developments, he said he would prefer that citizens and elected leaders make such decisions rather than his agency. "I'd rather not take the heat," he said. The problem has been in finding means of learning the public's viewpoints, he told the morning prayer breakfast gathering.

Mikesell acknowledged that SIMARPC and to an extent the Madison County government have made it difficult or impossible to build in a strip several miles wide, measured west to east, paralleling the eastern side of Highway 111 for many miles as it progresses northward through the American Bottoms.

The impediment relates to actual or assumed conditions and policies, some adopted and others not enacted but given the effect of law when referred to by objectors in complaints to regional and federal agencies.

He voiced the belief in response to questions that some restrictions can be eased through amendments. The changes would show lists of options and provide documentation of how some of the options could be feasibly carried out.

By a majority vote of the group of about 40, most of Wednesday's time was spent discussing land use. Other topics referred to were air quality, railroad relocation, stormwater drainage and methods of expanding job opportunities.

Mikesell voiced willingness to continue a dialogue with the prayer group, a cross-section of Quad-Cityans assembled by the Community Service Division of

ADDED PROTECTION FOR DEAF. The Pontoon Beach Lions Club, with the cooperation of the police department has installed a Teletypewriter for Deaf (TTY) in the police department. The device will enable deaf persons within a 30-mile radius of Pontoon Beach police headquarters who have an emergency situation to call the police on the TTY. Pontoon Beach police will inform whatever emergency service is necessary such as fire, police or ambulance. Approximately 30 deaf persons with TTY units live within range of Pontoon Beach. Leon Hudson, 74 Shirlin Drive, who has a TTY in his home, is demonstrating use of the machine which works in conjunction with a telephone device. Watching the demonstration, from left, are Chief of Police Rosewell Bennett, treasurer of the Lions Club, Loren Madison and Sgt. Harold Denham, both members of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club.

City will act on crossing hazards

A study of potential speed limits for trains, additional gate protection and other means of improving safety at Granite City railroad crossings — particularly that on West Pontoon Road — was ordered by the City Council Monday night.

The council's Traffic Committee, headed by Alderman Everett Morien, reported that it had begun preliminary steps in such a study in conferences Monday afternoon with representatives of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and has scheduled further meetings through the next two weeks.

The problem was referred to the Traffic Committee on a motion by Alderman Emerald Daves of the Seventh Ward after council members discussed at length the problems stemming from long waits for passing trains and crossing gates which frequently malfunction — factors that have led to two fatalities and several injury accidents at the West Pontoon railroad crossing during the past year and a half.

The council at first referred the problem to the Ordinance Committee after Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward suggested that a study be made of the feasibility of establishing a uniform speed limit for all trains traveling through Granite City.

Daves, however, maintained that "The people in the area of the West Pontoon crossing need a manned tower to handle gate operation rather than speed limits," and urged that the Traffic Committee go into the matter thoroughly and make recommendations at a later council session.

Morien told the council that he already had met with Chamber of Commerce representatives to discuss petitions signed in the West Pontoon Road area by more than 700 persons asking that additional protection against high-speed trains at the West Pontoon Road crossing be provided. The study project then was transferred to Morien's Traffic Committee.

Daves' motion that a study be made also included the provision that the Traffic Committee and City Attorney George Filloff be instructed to begin negotiations with railroad officials for establishment of a tower at the West Pontoon Road crossing, similar to that now in use at the 20th Street crossing.

The petitions asking improved safety measures at the West Pontoon crossing were initiated by Mrs. Fleeta Staicoiff, mother of Toby Staicoiff, 17, who was fatally injured in a car-train crash at the crossing on Nov. 3, 1973. She said most of the signatures were obtained during the weekend as a result of the death of Miss Gwenn Ellen Oliver, 17, in an auto-train collision at the same crossing on Dec. 22.

Council members noted that considerable concern results from the fact that both fatal accidents occurred when the drivers went around crossing gates which were down. Others emphasized that past experience from long waits at the crossing induces motorists to "try to beat approaching trains" when it appears they might do so.

Morien said he hadn't realized until his meeting Monday with Chamber of Commerce officials that the gates are activated and frequently are down for long periods to permit changes in train crews at a point near the West Pontoon crossing.

Alderman Steve Basarich said one possible solution might be the installation of "double gates" at dangerous crossings, making it impossible for drivers to go around lowered gates. He said he had read of such instances of double gates and that they had been successful in preventing accidents.

Alderman Walter Nonn said he believed there could be no added protection at the West Pontoon crossing until the

Levee red ink worse

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer
Sweeping cutbacks in employment and operations of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District were predicted by levee board officials Wednesday after revenue projections in a 1975 appropriation bill indicate the district faces a budget deficit that could range as high as $700,000 this year.

In anticipation of the district's mounting financial problems, the payroll already has been cut to a force of about 70 workers, a 30 per cent reduction below the normal work force of slightly more than 100 persons. No further hiring is contemplated this year and even further cuts are possible, it was reported.

The board of levee district trustees approved for public posting yesterday a new 1975 budget bill calling for expenditure of a total of $2,579,286 during the 1975 fiscal year, which is the same as the calendar year Jan. 1 through Dec. 31.

The new budget sets up expenditures of $1,510,000 in the general fund, or $33,000 less than the $1,543,000 general fund appropriation approved for the 1974 year. It also includes payment of $870,256 in bond principal and interest costs, $15,000 for liability insurance, $150,000 in municipal retirement payments and $25,000 for auditing.

While the budget projects expenditures of more than $1.3 million in the general fund, revenue estimates show the district expects to receive about $1,065,000 in general fund tax revenue on the basis of last year's property assessments in the bi-county areas of Madison and St. Clair Counties in which the district is located.

Levee trustees noted, however, that this estimate was made before the district learned that tax sales of delinquent property by St. Clair County were far below normal during December, which means that the delinquent property will remain on the county books and revenue during the 1975 year. A loss of as much as $300,000 in tax revenue may result from the reduced tax sales, officials said.

On this basis, revenue for the levee district's general fund this year may not exceed $800,000 against a budgeted outgo of $1.5 million, or a possible deficit of $700,000.

Adding to the poor financial picture is the fact that the district owes $650,000 for anticipation warrants sold to the banks to help finance operations last year. The anticipation warrants must be redeemed with the first 1975 tax revenue received.

While the district again may issue new tax warrants to

MRS. STEVEN GANZ, the former Miss Lois Gauen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gauen, 2131 Amos Ave., who was married in an afternoon ceremony at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Miss Lois Gauen and Steven Ganz are wed

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the scene of the afternoon wedding on Dec. 28 of Miss Lois Gauen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gauen, 2131 Amos Ave., and Steven Ganz, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ganz, 2019 Amos Ave.

Poinsettias and a lighted Christmas tree provided the setting for the two-o'clock ceremony performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly.

Mrs. Clea Judd presided at the organ and accompanied John Stanfill as he sang, "We've Only Just Begun," "The Wedding Prayer," "There is Love," "Our Father" and "Ave Maria."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length, white organza gown trimmed with Venise lace motifs at the neckline and on the sleeves.

Lace appliques were repeated on the front of the A-line skirt and on the detachable train, which fell from the back waistline.

Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a lace petal headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Miss Ellen Gauen, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Nancy Norris, another sister of the bride, Miss Becky Ganz, the groom's sister, Misses Christy Zenk, Kathy Lancaster and Angela Jakich. The attendants were dressed alike in floor-length, blue velvet gowns fashioned with cream-colored, lace bodices and high necklines complemented with blue velvet jackets.

Each held a colonial bouquet of tinted carnations and baby's breath festooned with blue streamers.

Carl Schenke of Kansas City, Mo., attended the groom as best man.

Groomsmen and ushers included Jim Greenwald, Randy Ganz, a brother of the groom, Tom Kalert, Mike Garland, Dale Wibbenmeyer of Colorado and Lance Kennerly.

Mrs. Lester Frisse, a sister of the bride, registered guests at an evening reception held at Polish Hall.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Charlie's Restaurant.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gauen chose a floor-length, mint green gown with long sleeves and silver accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Ganz, was attired in a formal dress fashioned of deep red coral created with a high neck line and long sleeves. She also wore silver accessories.

A 1974 graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride was employed as a unit clerk at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The groom received his B.S. degree at the University of Missouri at Rolla and also is a graduate of Granite City High School. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and presently is employed as a metallurgist with the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. in Kankakee, Ill., where they will reside.

Pre-wedding party fetes couple

A pre-wedding party was held this week honoring Miss Donna Zapalac and Gregory Brewer, who will be married on March 29.

The event took place in the home of Mrs. Lorraine Williams, 1534 Niedringhaus Ave. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Trittschuh.

The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Zapalac of Ladrange, Tex. The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmo (Mayola Nolin) Brewer of Houston, Tex., formerly of Granite City.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Yencho and sons, Mike and Steve, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trittschuh and daughter, Susan, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Trittschuh, all of Granite City; and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Schneider and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Schneider and son, Scott, of St. Louis.

finance 1975 operating costs, these will contribute to financial problems continuing into next year. In addition, the district can anticipate only $600,000 to $800,000 depending upon the leniency of the banks which buy the warrants.

William "Mike" Ebersold, Venice mayor and a member of the levee board of trustees, said "the only way we can possibly make it (financially) is by cutting costs everywhere we can."

We have trimmed the payroll to include only union employees who are under contract."

Cuts in operating costs also will be necessary "all down the line," Ebersold said.

The $1,500,000 general fund budget is made up of $625,000 to finance project costs, a reduction from a budget of $758,425 for that purpose last year; administration costs of $200,000, down $76,325 from last year; engineering at $35,000, down from $68,000, and general maintenance at $650,000, up from $399,650 last year.

The increase of $250,350 in general maintenance expenditures offset most of the reductions made in budgets for project costs, engineering and administration.

The new budget will be posted for public inspection at the levee district's East St. Louis offices. A public hearing will be held in mid-February for final adoption of a permanent budget, followed by adoption of a tax levy.

Once the tax levy is approved, the district may begin selling tax anticipation warrants against tax collections for the 1975 year, collectable in 1976.

Twirling and weightlifting classes at 'Y'

"Two new YMCA programs have been added to the winter season," Executive Director Harold R. Rudolph reporting. Baton twirling for youngsters is being offered on Wednesdays, 4:30-5:30 p.m., beginning this week. Sharold Youn, who has been teaching baton and has many winners in competition, is the instructor.

It is a beginners' course, with each person providing a baton. Fee is $4 for YMCA members and $11 for non-members.

"Many youth members have requested some instruction on weightlifting. On Monday-Wednesday-Friday evenings from 7 to 9, Paul R. Williams will offer instruction in the 'Y' weight room. It is free to members, and non-members will be able to participate by paying the day pass membership fee," Rudolph said.

Registration and more information are available at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., 876-7200.

SIMARPC favored to plan area water pollution program

Most representatives of industry and governmental units responded favorably at a hearing Tuesday to having the Southwestern Illinois Regional Planning Commission assume the responsibility for coordinating water pollution control programs in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe Counties.

About 18 speakers addressed the hearing at the Collinsville Holiday Inn during which officials of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency collected information for use in determining if SIMARPC is the best agency to prepare an area-wide plan.

The Illinois EPA is to make a recommendation on an agency to Gov. Daniel Walker who will appoint one person in each selected planning area.

The hearing also was to determine if the three counties

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

should be joined into one planning area and again most of the speakers were in favor.

Only two of the speakers were opposed to the plan as a spokesman for Olin Industries, East Alton, said he felt the plan could create more red tape for industry. He said Olin presently has a working relationship with the EPA and feels the state EPA should continue water pollution control.

Another speaker, from the Wood River Township Chamber of Commerce, said he felt a new agency could place new constraints on industries and could harm industrial growth in this area.

The Olin spokesman said he felt the three townships should not be linked for convenience, but a "basin" approach should be used. A SIMARPC spokesman answered that the basin approach would necessitate planning for a giant area from here to New Orleans, La.

Among those speaking in favor of the plan and designation of the three counties as one waste treatment planning area was Robert Jackson, superintendent of the Granite City Sewage Treatment Plant, who represented Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City. The hearing officer said the file on the hearing would remain open until Jan. 14 for additional written statements which may be submitted. The file already contains endorsements from several governmental bodies, including the Madison County Board. If SIMARPC is selected to manage the program, a plan costing about $1 million to $2 million to implement, will be prepared by the planning group and will be submitted for approval by the state and federal EPAs. If approval is granted before the close of the state fiscal year June 30, a 100 per cent grant will provide reimbursement for the plan. If not approved until after June 30, the grant will be for 75 per cent of the program cost.

A SIMARPC spokesman said if his agency is approved, it will embark upon preparing a cost estimate which will be acceptable to EPA. After that acceptance, a series of major studies would be initiated to identify specific and general sources of water pollution.

After major sources have been identified, SIMARPC will embark upon the formulation of a workable plan which would include the identification of which governmental agency should be responsible for implementation of each portion of the program. SIMARPC then would coordinate the actions of the various agencies in curbing water pollution.

Sewer repair bids called

Repair of one of the city's oldest and most severe sanitary sewer breaks, at a cost tentatively estimated at $80,000, was authorized by the Granite City Council Monday night.

Council members authorized an advertisement for bids on repair of the sewer line break located between Stearns, Boyle and Spalding avenues — a break that developed Dec. 17, 1973.

Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, said the break has required constant pumping 24 hours per day since the break occurred to keep sewage moving around a manhole that has sunk about four feet since the line first collapsed.

The council approved a motion to advertise for bids after John Houston of the St. Louis engineering firm of Sverup, Parcel and Associates told the aldermen that specifications for the work have been completed as the first phase of a citywide sewer study which is being directed by Dr. Robert Kempt of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Houston said that full extent of the work necessary to repair the line cannot be determined until workmen can reach the break. Portell said the broken line is about 14 feet under ground and about 10 to 15 feet of dewatering will be necessary before excavation can be made to reach the break.

Mayor Paul Schuler told the council that U. S. Flood Disaster funds totaling $65,000 have been approved for repairing the Stearns Avenue break, and that the break must be repaired and the costs audited before Granite City can receive an additional $25,000 which is due for repair of other sewer breaks attributed to the floods in the spring of 1973.

The U. S. Flood Disaster agency has advanced $34,000 of the allotted $65,000 to help the city finance the repair work, the mayor said.

The Stearns Avenue sewer break is one of the most severe of approximately 16 sewer breaks that remain unrepaired. Granite City has had a total of 58 sewer breaks since early 1973 when spring rains and a high river stage resulted in interior flooding and damage to many underground sewer lines.

During the city's 1973-74 fiscal year, a total of $1.6 million was paid by the city for repair of broken sewer line, a factor that is now being reflected in financial problems confronting city officials.

Bids were called by City Clerk Robert Stevens for 4 p.m. Monday, Jan. 27. Bids will be received at Stevens' office and will be opened there at 4:30 p.m. on that date. Specifications and forms on which bids are to be made may be obtained from Stevens.

approach was built up to eliminate the uphill approach on one side of the tracks.

The council Monday night concurred in the appointment by Mayor Paul Schuler of James Henry as a technician on the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board. Henry succeeds Larry Canada who resigned two months ago.

A contract for a new roof on the Granite City Animal Shelter was awarded to the Rogers Roofing Co. on a low bid of $800. Four bids were received.

A bid of $1,211 on the sale by the city of a lot in the 2400 block of Iowa Street was rejected. The city's bid was $1,000. The city should readvertise for bids with a minimum of $1,500 for the property.

The council also rejected a bid for a new city fire truck. The bid of $72,328 was received from the Seagraves Fire Truck Co. of St. Louis. The city has a bid of $50,000 appropriated by the city for purchase of a new truck this year.

Meanwhile, the Illinois Commerce Commission reported that it is looking into the problem at the West Porton Road crossing near the tracks.

Robert Layton, railroad utility engineer for the ICC, said slow-moving freight trains could be out of sight when it trips circuits that cause the lights to flash and the gates to go down. The circuits are stuck and back up the tracks because of fast-moving passenger trains, he said.

Layton reported that Amtrak passenger trains are allowed a speed up to 79 miles an hour, but probably slow to about 70 miles at the crossing. Dick Ervay, of the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said the petitions signed by residents in the vicinity of the crossing also are being sent to Cong. Clayton in St. Louis.

St. Louis said the ICC probably will arrange meetings with the citizens and the railroad to discuss ways of improving conditions at the crossing.

After November, another 130 or so will become Manpower employees.

The employees work with government entities, such as office and township, assisting in custodial work, street repairs, snow removal and secretarial and other tasks.

Churovich explained the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) under which the funds are being made available, was established by Congress as a three-year program, but funds must be appropriated each year if the program is to continue.

The new $1,809,652 grant announced Monday is a 13-month grant, from Jan. 10, 1975, to Feb. 9, 1976.

He said persons wishing to apply for jobs through the CETA program should first apply with the Illinois State Employment Service for any position they may have. Once qualified for the State Employment Service, applicants then should request a "Manpower application" from the same office.

"All applications must be filed with the State Employment Service offices. None are available at the Manpower office or anywhere else," Churovich said.

The local State Employment Service and Division of Unemployment Compensation office is at 1200 Cleveland Boulevard.

CANNABIS CHARGE
Robert D. York, 17, of 2504 Center St., was arrested near 21st and Benton streets at 11:10 p.m. yesterday and charged with illegal possession of cannabis. Officers alleged they saw him throw a bag containing 16 grams of marijuana on the ground as a squad car passed him. Another youth with him was released after questioning.

WARREN STOOKEY

National award to director of alumni service

Warren Stookey, director of alumni services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been named a recipient of the Distinguished Service Award of Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity.

The presentation was made at the 23rd biennial national convention of APO by Lawrence L. Hirsch, national president. The fraternity's highest award is given every two years to three members for outstanding services.

Others honored at this year's convention at Stouffer's Riverfront Towers in St. Louis were Alden Barber of North Brunswick, N. J., chief BOI executive, and Luther Young of Washington, D. C., immediate past president of APO.

A member of the fraternity since 1948, Stookey has served the APO on local, state and national levels. He was a member of the national board from 1966 to 1972, and has been sectional chairman since 1962. He was program chairman of the 1972 convention.

Stookey was coordinator of the 1974 biennial convention. Members of the SIUE chapter who had key roles in the program were Jim Greer, Granite City, convention vice chairman, and Rich Wallace, Edwardsville, in charge of physical arrangements.

After graduation from SIUE at Carbondale in 1950, Stookey went to work for the Boy Scout Council in Herrin. In July 1953, he came to this area to work with the First Bird Council in Alton. Currently, he is chairman of the Fort Russell District.

A native of Belleville, he and his wife and two sons live in Wood River, where he serves as a member of the Planning Commission and Board of Zoning Appeals.

The SIUE chapter of Alpha Phi Omega was organized in 1948 at Shurtleiff College, now the campus of the university's School of Dental Medicine. Stookey became adviser in 1955 and continued to serve for a time after joining the SIUE staff in 1961 as assistant director of alumni services. When SIUE was decentralized in 1972, Stookey's title was changed to director.

Hodge sues to obtain license

Orville Hodge of Granite City whose application for a license as an insurance broker was denied last month by Robert B. Wilcox, state director of insurance, has filed suit in circuit court at Springfield asking a court order instructing Wilcox to reverse the ruling.

Hodge, 70, former state auditor who served a six and a half year prison term for embezzlement, claimed in his suit that Wilcox's decision was "erroneous, illegal and void."

He alleged the decision was not based on the evidence and that Wilcox "abused his discretionary power."

Wilcox had said the state insurance code authorizes the director to refuse to issue a broker's license if the applicant has been guilty of fraudulent or dishonest practices or has been convicted of a felony.

Hodge was granted a real estate broker's license a year ago.

2-Year calendar of events

By JOAN MURKARO

SPRINGFIELD — From madrigals to pursuing the wild mushrooms, the special events section of the Illinois Conservation Department has come up with a little something for just about everybody.

Looking ahead to the nation's Bicentennial, the department has issued its calendar of special events for two years, instead of the customary one-year forecast, with a varied list of projects right through December of '76.

For 1975, the widely varied program of activities will get underway in February, when the Rock Cut Winter Carnival will be held Feb. 15 and 16 at Rock Cut State Park.

No events are planned for March, but in April, the Ferne Clyffe County Days event, featuring rural crafts and country music will be held at Ferne Clyffe State Park, April 26 and 27.

A wild foods festival is to be held May 17 and 18, followed by the well-established Ft. de Chartres Rendezvous on June 7 and 8. An Old English Fair is set for June 21 and 22, and the department will sponsor some activities during the Illinois State Fair, Aug. 4 through 17.

Action will return to state parks on Sept. 13 and 14 when the "Turn of the Century" celebration is held at the Illinois State Fair, Sept. 20 and 21. The Bishop Hill Jorderbrukdaga, or harvest festival, will be held Oct. 4 and 5, with "Ft. Massac, 1776," set for Nov. 1 and 2, and the 1975 events will wind up on Dec. 6 and 7, with New Salem Christmas.

For 1976, the schedule of events, and the dates, include:

Rock Cut Winter Carnival, Feb. 7 and 8; Ferne Clyffe County Days, April 26 and 27; The Native Illinoisan, at Cahokia Mounds, May 22 and 23; Old English Fair, June 12 and 13; Ft. Massac, 1776, June 21 and 22; Ft. de Chartres Rendezvous, June 28 to July 1; The Menard's Home Celebration on July 4; and the Cahokia Court House Celebration on July 17; Ft. de Chartres Rendezvous, July 10 and 11; participation in the Illinois State Fair, Aug. 13 through 22; Turn of the Century Celebration, Sept. 11 and 12; Bishop Hill Jorderbrukdaga, Oct. 4 and 5, and New Salem Christmas, Dec. 4 and 5.

Final details are still being worked out for the George Rogers Clark Trek, which will re-create the events of Clark's triumphant passage through southern Illinois in 1776.

Some of the events, like the Turn of the Century celebration which features games, clothing, food, and activities which were popular at the end of the last century and the state of the present one, are moved from park to park yearly and final locations for some of these events also remain to be determined.

State patronage job losses in Madison County may total ten as a result of this week's battle for the position of speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives, County Democratic Chairman Walter "Buck" Simmons of Venice reports.

Associates of Gov. Daniel Walker sought to block Clyde Choate of Anna for the speaker position and succeeded through nearly a dozen roll calls.

The new General Assembly session began. Choate led the balloting but remained about 30 votes short of the 60 needed.

A close associate of the Commonwealth Edison Co. will shut down three generating units in Chicago and Rockford this year due to fuel supply difficulties and environmental restrictions.

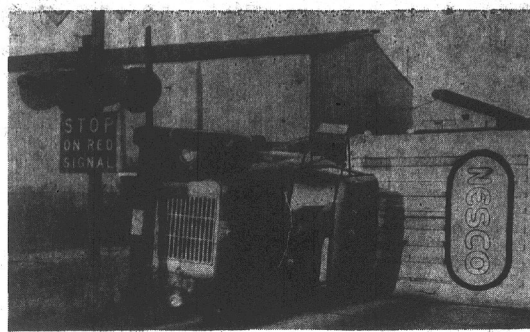

President Ford is said to have decided to back graduated tariffs on oil imports, boosting consumer gasoline prices as much as seven cents a gallon by fall.

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. this week asked 15,000 installers, repairmen and switchmen to take part of their vacations early or to take time off without pay in order to avoid layoffs. Work has declined due to less home building, the company said.

Talks with Standard, Shell and other oil refiners continued today, with the possibility of a strike call remaining in the picture.

The Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees went to court this week to seek retroactive pay allegedly due $4,000 Illinois state employees.

East-West Gateway Coordinating Council President Lawrence K. Roon said Wednesday that the economic well-being of this region will be jeopardized unless there is a quick decision on a proposed new airport. He addressed the Illinois-Missouri Progressive Airport Creation Taskforce.

TRUCK OVERTURNS TODAY. A Nesco Steel Barrel truck-trailer, which collided with a Granite City Steel train at 20th and Omaha streets at 8 a.m. today, is shown on its side on the pavement minutes after the accident. The driver, Paul E. Tilson, Highland, climbed out without apparent injuries. The truck was loaded with 12,000 pounds of steel barrels.

Terrell to head GC Rotary

Bill H. Terrell was elected president of the Granite City Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon Tuesday at the YMCA for the 1975-76 club year beginning July 1.

Steve E. Bristol was chosen as first vice-president. Current President Walter C. Milton was elected as 1975-76 second vice-president.

Others elected were City Clerk Robert W. Stevens, secretary; Joseph Miltello, assistant secretary; Earl Deiter, treasurer; Thebeau, assistant treasurer; Bernard P. Pinney, sergeant-at-arms; and Charles Hayes, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

William Burckey, Robert Jackson and Donald Adams were elected as directors to serve until 1978, and Walter B. Stauffer and Donald Pierson as members of the board through 1977.

Terrell is area manager for the Franklin Life Insurance Co. of Springfield, Ill., serving Madison and St. Clair Counties. A teacher and coach in Granite City schools beginning in 1956, he has been devoted full time to the insurance field since 1960.

He is active in the Tri-Cities Area United Way and Chamber of Commerce and at present is the Rotary club's first vice-president. He formerly headed the Granite City Rotary community service division.

Terrell resides at 21 Oaklawn Drive with his wife, JoAnn, and their children, Greg, 17, Tami, 15, and Robbie, two.

President Milton presided Tuesday and it was announced that the club's "chili day" will be held Feb. 25 at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Program Chairman Donald Shaffner introduced James Dumont, principal of Granite City High School South, whose experience in the Granite City school system has included driver education, vocational and audio-visual instruction and coordination. Assistant principal and then principal at Coolidge Junior High School for seven years, he is in his third year as GCIS South principal.

Dumont answered questions from Rotarians on school issues, saying that use of "hard drugs" has decreased due to increased student awareness of drug-related illness and deaths.

Marijuana control efforts continue but arrest of pushers is more appropriately than is the case at many out-of-town schools, he said. Current South enrollment is 2,800, Dumont noted.

The club was told. School policies seek to combine firmness with understanding, Dumont commented.

Legal rulings limit guidance on personal appearance, but local students appear to dress more appropriately than is the case at many out-of-town schools, he said. Current South enrollment is 2,800, Dumont noted.

Simmons said an unsuccessful effort was made to get him to pressure Calvo and Lucco to change their votes.

"It's not my place to tell them how to vote," he asserted. He said state jobs are needed but that he will not "beg" for them.

Victor DeGrazia, deputy to the governor, admitted widespread firings and said they were due to fiscal "belt-tightening" rather than politics.

Sen. Cecil Partee was elected as Senate president after agreeing to accept Sen. Terry

Legislator, judge pay hikes signed

Gov. Dan Walker yesterday signed legislation boosting the pay of most state legislators, judges and top state officials.

One of the bills signed raises the pay of most state legislators $2,500 per year to $30,000. Holdover senators, such as Sen. Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville, will not receive increases until and if they earn re-election in 1976.

Walker's signing of the bills came as somewhat of a surprise, since he had indicated he did not feel the state's budget could withstand the increases.

The pay hikes were approved by the General Assembly in December.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 9, 1975 Page 5

Another bill gives an increase of $12,500 per year, almost 42 per cent, to circuit court judges outside of Cook and DuPage counties. The judges have received $30,000 per year and now will get $42,500.

Associate judges' pay is increased $4 per cent from $25,000 to $26,000, a $1,500 per year raise. Counties will have to provide $4,500 of the increase.

A third bill signed by Walker yesterday raises the pay of some state department directors to $44,000 a year, placing them among the highest-paid department heads in any state.

Walker said the increases were needed to attract the best qualified persons into public offices.

STEREO TAKEN

Shirley Arnold, 95 Garesche Homes, Madison, reported at 8:35 p.m. Tuesday that the glass on her apartment door was broken to enter her apartment and a stereo eight-track player and 25 tapes, with a total value of $345, were taken.

A federal proposal to grant oil leases at 50 cents per acre a year for 10 years in the Shawnee National Forest in Illinois was assailed at a public hearing in Marion Monday night by Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III.

Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison said experience in such states as Florida has shown that virtually any terrain can be developed to meet economic and ecological requirements, resulting in numerous attractive projects in that state.

Sasyk questioned whether independently-financed engineering studies of Madison County have been given adequate weight by the Southwestern Commission.

When told that East-West Gateway Coordinating Council land use decisions appear to block development in southwestern Madison County, Mikeell suggested that local East-West board members seek policy revisions with SIMARPC help.

Rep. James R. Washburn and Sen. William C. Harris head the Republican minorities.

Simmons said an unsuccessful effort was made to get him to pressure Calvo and Lucco to change their votes.

"It's not my place to tell them how to vote," he asserted. He said state jobs are needed but that he will not "beg" for them.

Victor DeGrazia, deputy to the governor, admitted widespread firings and said they were due to fiscal "belt-tightening" rather than politics.

Close rivalry produces close game; North is 52-44 winner

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
An estimated 2,000 basketball fans jammed into the Granite City High School South gymnasium Tuesday to witness what has become one of the greatest sports rivalries in this region, GCHS North versus GCHS South.

Emotions ran high, and the cheering was wild after each scoring attempt in a contest that provided little insight as to which school would emerge the victor until the final period of play. The Steelers of North won 52-44.

GCHS North led 14-12, 26-24 and 38-34 at the quarters, and outscored GCHS South 14-10 in the final period.

The Steelers made good 22 of 67 field goal attempts and eight of 15 shots from the foul line. South's Warriors hit 19 of 44 from the field and six of 11 charity tosses. North had the fewest fouls, 13-15, and turned over 11-15.

Thurs., Jan. 9, 1975 Page 6

Both teams rebounded well, North holding a slim 25-24 edge. South edged North 4-4 in first-quarter field goals but the Steelers gained their narrow lead by making six of eight free throws.

Many Warrior fans felt the outcome of the game could have been different had not Tom Schooley gone to the bench with four fouls early in the game. North jumped to a 6-0 lead before Schooley tied the contest with three baskets.

The senior player returned to action late in the final period but failed to score again. South threatened to pull ahead in the third period after North stretched its lead to 30-25 on field goals by Mike Waldo and Larry Jones. Warrior Bob Hutchings scored and Jim Nolan made it 30-29 with two foul shots.

But two rapid baskets enabled North to regain its momentum. South, trailing 48-42, missed a field goal try and North's Gene Logas took the rebound to drive down the lane and score with 48 seconds remaining.

With time running out, Nolan made good the final basket for South before North's Mike Waldo put two charity shots through the net with 11 seconds remaining.

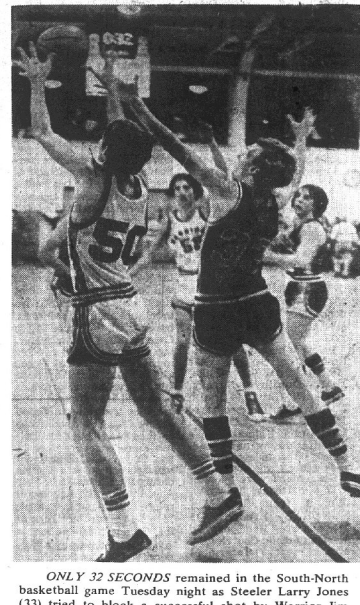

Scoring for the Steelers were: Waldo and Darrell Page with 14 points each, Logas nine, Greg Gauzen seven and Jones and Rick Spurlock, four each.

Racking up points for the Warriors were: Hutchings with 14, Nolan 12, Dave Naglich eight, Schooley six and Ken Bertrand four.

When someone later asked a North fan who had won the game, he answered, "Granite City won."

Road is friendly to Cougars

Coach Jim Dudley's Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team is red hot — on a seven-game winning streak and 8-1 for the season. And the Cougars have yet to play a game at home.

Latest official national basketball statistics issued by National Collegiate Sports Services, New York, in cooperation with the NCAA, tell the story, dramatically, of how tough the Cougars are.

SIU's leading scorer, Troy senior Keith McFarland, ranks eighth in NCAA Division II with a per game scoring average of 24.7 points. He trails his teammate, Cougar captain and guard Don Koppenhaver of Alton, in field goal percentage.

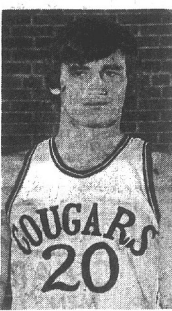

The hard-playing scrambling Koppenhaver leads SIUE scores with 56.7 per cent accuracy from the floor. "Marvelous Mac" is next with 55.8 and is followed by another starter, John Strubberg, a native of Union, Mo., who played his high school basketball at Belleville's St. Henry Prep. Strub is hitting from the floor at a 52.3 per cent average.

Second in the nation in rebounding is the Cougars' 6-10½ freshman, Dandy Dan Donahue of Arlington Heights High, a Chicago suburb. He is averaging 16.7 caroms a game.

Another freshman and starter, Decatur's Vince Barnett, is right behind Donahue in rebounding and gaining fast as he gets more confidence. The former MacArthur High star is averaging nine rebounds a game.

In the scoring parade, Strubberg is behind McFarland and his nine-game totals have him averaging 13.4 points a game.

In the national NCAA "team offense" category, SIUE is

KEITH MCFARLAND

15th with 89.7 points per game. The Cougars have racked up an 11.4-point winning margin in their games.

Most revealing is Coach Dudley's charges' marksmanship at the free throw line — No. 2 in the nation with a 78.3 average.

Donahue's contribution to the Cougars' success has been more than just his rebounding, as terrific as that is. He's No. 3 for SIUE with 11.6 points per game and appears headed for even a larger scoring average as his confidence grows.

All nine of the games have been played on the usually cruel, cold road. The Cougars will open their home campaign Wednesday, Jan. 15, against Indiana University-Northwest, of Gary, in a game at the Edwardsville Senior High School gym.

The Cougars' most recent success included winning the fourth annual Green Bay (Wis.) Cage Classic championship last Friday and Saturday and capturing the annual George Williams College Holiday Tournament crown at Downers Grove, a Chicago suburb, all in a span of eight days.

Winning the Green Bay Classic, the Cougars defeated the host school, the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay Phoenix, 52-46. It was the Cougars' first loss at the Green Bay Arena in 32 straight games going back to 1971.

In both tournaments, SIUE's McFarland was chosen as "most valuable" player.

The Cougars will resume their campaign for a possible post-season NCAA tourney bid when they go back on the road, flying to Kenosha, Wis., to battle the high-flying University of Wisconsin Parkside Rangers Saturday night.

Since the two schools started playing each other in the 1969-70 season, SIUE has racked up a 5-2 advantage, but this year it's a cinch to be tougher. Parkside, which lost thrillers to SIUE last year by 58-50 and 66-61 scores, has been reinforced by three transfers from St. Louis University, including the leading rebounder, Mal

Mahon.

The Rangers' 6-10 center, Gary Cole, is hitting at a 24-point per game average and is an All-American candidate.

On comparative scores, this Saturday's game would appear to be a standoff. Grand Valley State University of Grand Rapids, Mich., the team which SIUE beat 71-69 to gain the shot at the Green Bay Classic title, has already split a pair of games with Parkside.

The Cougars' road experience should help Saturday at Kenosha.

9th Trojan victory 66-49 conquest of Okawville Rockets

The Madison Trojans upped their cage record to 9-2 Tuesday with a 66-49 victory over the Rockets at Okawville.

Madison dominated the boards, recovering 42 rebounds to the hosts' 18. Darryl Franklin and Mike Williams each pulled down 11 rebounds.

The Trojans led 19-18, 33-16 and 46-32 at the quarters and outscored Okawville 20-14 in the final period.

Led in scoring by 16 points from Ron Jones and 15 from Rudolph Bradley, the Trojan "Green Wave" shot 50 per cent from the field, making good 29 of 58 field goal attempts.

Madison scored 16 of its 29 goals in the first half of play.

The Trojans also hit on eight of 11 free throws.

Okawville was 22 of 53 from the field and five of eight from the foul line.

MHS committed the most fouls, 13-11, and turnovers, 18-12.

The Rockets' frequent scoring method of driving down the middle lane and passing to an open outside man was stopped cold by Madison's defense, which allowed only two Rocket players to score in double figures, Bill Eads 13 points and Kelly Jones, 10.

Aiding in the win also were: Darryl Franklin with 12 points, Mike Williams nine, Emmett Timmons four and, earning two points apiece, Curtis Bradley, Leroy Booker, Mike Stanley, Randall Jones and Joe Gulash.

4 arrested in shooting

Four persons have been charged by Pontoon Beach police with attempted murder in connection with the shooting Nov. 29, 1974, of Charles Ragan, 31, of 16 Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach.

Among those charged is Ragan's wife, Mrs. Carolyn Faye Ragan, 30, East St. Louis, who also is charged with soliciting for murder. She allegedly offered a man money and an old car to shoot her husband.

Others charged are Robert F. Perigo, 24, of 2700 Denver St., Carl G. Nightwine, 22, of 4003 North St., and Jessie James Hornbeak, 31, of East St. Louis. Ragan is recuperating from his wounds.

Police allege that Ragan and his wife had a disagreement the evening before the shooting. She allegedly talked to one man who allegedly agreed to shoot Ragan.

Officers further allege that the man borrowed keys to Hornbeak's auto and went to Ragan's home.

Unable to receive an answer at the door, he returned to a Madison taxicab stand, where Mrs. Ragan was working as a dispatcher, and she gave him a key to the house, it is contended.

Two men then left for Ragan's home, entered using the key and shot Ragan, who was asleep on the couch, official reports allege.

Ragan told officers he heard a loud noise and felt pain. He said he thought he heard three shots and turned to see two men leaving the house.

Ragan recalled going to the door, from where he saw a car leaving the area.

He went to the telephone and called a telephone operator, asking her to send police to his house. The operator called Pontoon Beach police, who found Ragan's door locked.

They said Ragan shouted to them to knock the door down, since he was unable to move. They forced entry and found him on the floor, bleeding from two bullet wounds to his chest.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, he was admitted in critical condition. He since has been released from the hospital, but is to undergo additional surgery.

Pontoon Beach and Granite City police cooperated in an intensive investigation. Granite City police arrested Nightwine and Perigo Jan. 3 in connection with alleged improper use of license plates on autos. Nightwine also was charged with theft of a vehicle.

During questioning, officers obtained information, they allege, that helped pinpoint suspects in the Ragan shooting case.

Mrs. Ragan was arrested while working at the taxicab stand at 6:35 p.m. Monday and while police were there, Hornbeak entered and also was arrested, officers said.

Bond for Mrs. Ragan was set at a total of $35,000. Nightwine and Perigo were held under $30,000 bond each and Hornbeak's bond was set at $10,000.

Propose GC as center site

The possibility of building the proposed Exposition and Arts Authority Center in Granite City will be examined by City Council members, although some aldermen believe such action may handicap the present move to build the center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

A prepared resolution endorsing the proposal to build the center at SIUE was ready for approval by council members Monday night and was recommended for passage by Alderman Gerald Parmley, chairman of the council's Finance Committee.

But action on the resolution was held up on a suggestion by Alderman Ronald Coleman that the city look into the matter to determine the feasibility of proposing a site in Granite City for construction of the center.

Alderman Walter Nonn protested such a move, noting that "if we get into a fight with a lot of other cities trying to build the center, we are going to defeat our own purpose. The site already offered by SIUE is the best for this project."

Nonn warned a campaign by a number of cities to obtain the center in their own respective communities "might mean losing the center in Madison County."

A motion by Coleman to delay action on the resolution endorsing the SIU site was approved on a voice vote. Coleman said that he and Parmley had met with Senator Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, principal sponsor of the Exposition Center bill approved by the legislature last year.

Parmley, who was absent at Monday night's meeting, sent the council a brief letter in which he recommended the resolution be passed.

Gun is fired at bartender

William Jones, 20, of 2712 Denver St. was arrested at West 20th Street and Missouri Avenue Tuesday and charged with attempted voluntary manslaughter.

It is alleged that a young man entered Victor's Tavern, West 20th Street and Illinois Avenue, at about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and asked the bartender, John Maszaros, to serve him a drink. Maszaros refused to serve him and the man left, saying he would return with a gun. He returned at 3:25 p.m. Tuesday and again asked Maszaros for a drink. The bartender again refused after which the man allegedly displayed a handgun and fired a shot toward Maszaros. The shot missed and the gunman fled through the front door.

Players' elect; audition Wednesday

Mike Tharp, program director at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, has been elected president of the East Bank Players Community Theatre group for 1975.

The local theatrical company announced last week that open auditions will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 15, for the next show, "No, No, A Million Times No."

The musical "mellodrammer" by Samuel French, Inc., is based on a book by Ekel Crawford with lyrics and music by Bub Tomkins.

The auditions are scheduled to take place at the former Hungarian Home, 1801 Spruce St., now the headquarters of the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City. Any area resident interested in joining the cast of "No, No, A Million Times No." is cordially invited to try out at next week's audition night.

Mrs. Diane (Niche) Ripper and Mrs. Ann (Johnson) Scott, East Bank officers, reported.

Other new officers elected by the amateur theatrical company, include: Norma Mendoza, vice-president; Barbara Modrusz, secretary; Ann Scott, treasurer; and board members, Connie Becker, John Payson, Mark Stephens, Peggy Hoson, Diane Ripper, Jim Fenshtmann, Paul Guzzardo and Rick Kachigan.

Mrs. Ripper said the musical melodrama will be performed in the classic tradition, with the audience seated in cabaret style and invited to "his, boo or cheer" the villain and/or hero in appropriate fashion.

Characters in the production include: Nellie Quackenbush, the young, pretty, sad-eyed and distraught maid; Noble Hart, the tall, handsome and stalwart hero; and Stafford Blackman, a dark and sinister villain with a large black mustache.

Other characters roles to be filled are: Amos, a grey-haired farmer who is kind, bittersweet and Nellie's father; Birdie Seed, the farmer's housekeeper; a tall, thin woman of uncertain years with a high-pitched rasping voice.

Emmeline, the farmer's hired girl; Lily Cann, a young country boy; Guendolyn Findathers, the villain's girlfriend; and four young city girls - Della, Ella, Kate and Duplicate.

The chorus will feature modern boys and girls and "old-fashioned" milkmaids and farm youths.

Main characters include four male and eight female roles with many supporting and chorus parts.

A total of 14 songs, most with brief lyrics, is included in the production, Mrs. Ripper said.

The entire show is relatively short, she pointed out, adding that the company is planning a series of "dolls" before the show begins and during intermissions. "Dolls" are brief entertainment numbers and skits, she explained.

"Anyone wishing to participate in the variety acts also should come and try out Wednesday night," Mrs. Ripper said.

Program for autistic children to be outlined

Lois Blackwell, director of The Judevine Center for Autistic Children, will describe the Center's program at a colloquium Monday (Jan. 13) sponsored by the psychology department of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Education.

The seminar is scheduled in the Missouri Room of the University Center from 1 to 2 p.m. The Judevine Center, located in St. Louis, is concerned with children who are absorbed in fantasies as an escape from realities.

The colloquium is the first of a series planned by the psychology department during the winter and spring quarters at SIUE. The schedule includes:

Feb. 3 — Edwin Fisher, Washington University Department of Psychology, "Client Feelings, Attitudes and Attributions in Behavior Modification."
March 3 — Shirley Hill, Washington University Department of Psychiatry, "Marijuana: Central Nervous System Depressant or Excitant."
April 14 — James Korn, chairman of the department of psychology, St. Louis University, "Student Strategies for Academic Success."
May 19 — D. Eileen Wutels, Psychological Associates, Inc., "Research Applications in Industry."

All persons interested in psychology will be welcome at the colloquium.

Religion courses offered

The Springfield Catholic Diocesan Office of Religious Education will conduct an eight-week series of courses in religion.

The Rev. Kevin B. Sullivan, diocesan director of religious education, reports the courses will begin the week of Jan. 19 in 12 locations throughout the diocese.

In Granite City, two courses will be offered.

A Scripture course, Genesis and Exodus, will be offered by Msgr. Lawrence H. Wiskirchen, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Highland. The course will concentrate primarily on "two prominent themes that help explain God's activity with his people in times past as well as today — the themes of creation and covenant."

Classes will be held at St. Elizabeth School, 2300 Pontoon Road, Granite City, beginning Jan. 23. The classes will meet on Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9.

How the Christian message can "make men's faith become living, conscious and active" ("To Teach as Jesus Did, No. 102"), will be presented by the Rev. Charles G. Bolser, C.S.V., of the Griffin High School Faculty in Springfield. Classes will meet at St. Margaret Mary School, 1900 St. Clair Ave., Granite City, on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9.

This course will seek to show how to relate religious education to the psychological, emotional and physical growth both of the child and of the adolescent. The first session will be held on Jan. 21.

Registration will be held the first night of each class.

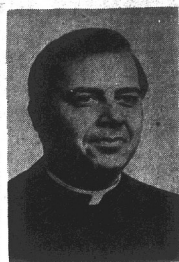

Those who wish to work toward diocesan teacher certification may apply for it at the time of registration. The registration fee will include texts and materials.

APA offers frisky pups for adoption

Twelve puppies of mixed breeds from three different litters will be offered for adoption by the Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals (APA) at its adoption clinic Saturday.

Prospective pet owners may see the animals from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday outside the front entrance to the Grant City store (Grant's) in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

The puppies, including five black pups brought to the APA from an area farm, have received their initial immunization shots. Mrs. Connie Becerra, APA shelter supervisor, said. All are frisky, healthy and ready for home care, she added.

Several kittens and cats also will be available at Saturday's adoption clinic, she advised.

Those adopting a pet from the APA are asked to contribute a minimal fee to help defray the expense of food for the animals. The humane association, a non-profit agency, receives no funds from outside sources.

To assist in purchasing food, which has spiraled in cost during the past few months, APA members also will offer wild bird seed for sale to the public every Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the mall area at Bellemore Village Shopping Center.

A donation of $1 for a four-pound sack is being asked from those buying the bird seed, Mrs. Becerra said.

K. B. Copeland dies after traffic crash

Kenneth B. Copeland, 41, of Las Vegas, Nev., a former Granite City resident, died of injuries sustained in an automobile accident at 4 p.m. Sunday, near Henderson, Nev.

He was born in Granite City and attended schools here prior to serving with the U.S. Navy during the Korean conflict. He has resided in Nevada for about 20 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lynn Copeland; two sons; two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Kahler and Mrs. Lillian Ferrell, both of Granite City.

Funeral services were held at 11:45 a.m. today at a Las Vegas funeral home.

Helman couple hurt in crash

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Helman, 2630 Cleveland Blvd., were injured when a parked auto coasted into Madison Avenue and the northbound Helman auto struck it.

The auto of Rich Chosich, 2432 Madison Ave., was believed to have been left in drive rather than in park in Chosich's driveway and coasted down the incline and into the street where it was struck.

Helman, 64, was examined and released from the hospital. Mrs. Reeva Helman, 58, a passenger, was treated for pain to her right lower leg and her right hand. X-rays were taken and she was released.

$150 car damage caused by fire

Fire, caused by a carburetor backfire, caused about $150 damage to the engine of the auto of Clyde Stephens, 2733 Ralph St., in the 2700 block of Washington Avenue at 4:35 p.m. Monday. Granite City firemen extinguished the flames.

Firemen also were called to the home of Sandy Agres, 3205 Maryville Road, Apt. 6, at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday where components of a television overheated, causing the set to smoke. Damage was estimated at $350.

Diesel fuel spills caused firemen to be called to the Tri-City Grocery warehouse, 1603 State St., twice Tuesday, at 8:40 a.m. and again at 10:20 a.m. Fire hoses were used to wash the fuel away and avoid a fire hazard.

Evening Kiwanis meets Tuesday

The Evening Kiwanis Club held its first meeting Tuesday evening at Charlie's Restaurant with 15 members attending.

The group has been meeting on Monday, but changed to Tuesday when the restaurant began closing on Mondays beginning the first of the year.

President Joseph Palovich appointed Marvin Barnes as program chairman for next week's meeting.

It was announced that the club will hold its annual Sweetheart Party at the home of Kiwanian Samuel Stookey on Friday, Feb. 14.

Assembly vote seen as only way to continue SIUE student work, vital courses

The operating budget recommendation for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was termed "disastrous" Tuesday by Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president.

The university had originally requested $34,100,000 in operating funds. Action by the Illinois Board of Higher Education reduced the request to $30,390,500. The operating budget for the current fiscal year is $28,285,000.

Rendleman said the apparent net increase in operating funds is "deceiving" because of special programs, salary and price increases which the BHE says are to be funded with the additional money, the impact on the university of proposed cuts in tuition waivers, and a deficit in funding for student wages.

"When these factors are taken into consideration, the university faces a net erosion of $1,634,700, which is actually a reduction of 5.4 per cent in operating funds in one year." From 1970-71 through the current fiscal year, Dr. Rendleman said, the cumulative budget reduction has been 20 per cent.

"While we have cooperated fully in absorbing these reductions in the past, we are now at a point where further erosion will seriously affect the integrity of this institution," the president said.

Dr. Rendleman said special programs alone would cut $1,051,500 from the operating base if all the programs recommended and advocated by the BHE were to be implemented.

Enforcement of a two per cent limit on tuition waivers could cost the university another $423,200, he said, "because without current waivers enrollment can be expected to decline."

"Our students are finding it increasingly difficult to meet tuition payments in the face of the economic decline and higher unemployment rates." The SIUE president said the BHE recommendation also leaves the local university with a $160,000 inadequacy in student wages.

Recently SIUE, along with other educational institutions, has had to increase student wages to meet minimum federal wage-hour requirements of $2 an hour.

Approximately 75 per cent of SIUE's student body is employed part-time, with many working on campus. The academic area, which accounts for 75 per cent of the operating budget, will feel the cuts most acutely, Dr. Rendleman said.

He cited examples of new and expanded academic program support requests as compared to the BHE recommendations, listed in parentheses:

Continuing education, $61,100 (none).

Teachers' center project, $30,520 ($30,000). Institute for urban and regional studies, $54,200 ($25,000).

Master of science in urban studies, $40,500 (none). Master of science in environmental studies, $113,080 (none).

Bachelor of science in human services, $36,383 (none). Sanitation technology, $18,610 ($18,000).

Audio visual services, $117,500 (none).

Data processing, $45,100 (none). Supplemental instructional program, $92,300 ($40,000). Black engineering students, $16,000 (none).

Master of science in biochemistry, $121,131 (none). Bachelor of science in industrial engineering, $42,000 ($42,000).

Dental medicine, $240,000 ($135,400).

Doctor of arts in physical science, $31,750 (none). Doctor of arts in business, $57,400 (none).

Joint doctoral in computer science, $46,800 (none). Doctor of education instructional processes, $45,000 ($25,000).

"If this budget is not amended by the legislature, it will mean that SIU at Edwardsville will not be able to implement many academic programs which this area needs," Dr. Rendleman said.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Jan. 9, 1975 Page 11

"This will deny hundreds of students in the second most populous area of Illinois an opportunity to be educated near home, where they can afford to go to school, without seriously disrupting their lives."

"Many of these students cannot possibly go to other educational institutions for the training they desire and need."

Bubblemasters plan events; assign jobs

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Civil Defense Building, 1411 Nineteenth St., D. L. "Whitey" Morrison reported today.

Morrison, newly installed president, also announced the appointment of six members to principal posts and committee chairmanships in the local diving club.

Vance Weiss, immediate past president, was selected delegate to the Midwest Diving Council (MDC), an organization with representatives from diving clubs in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. Named club air-master was Dee Adams, also a past president.

Chairmen appointed, include Mrs. Mary Adams, entertainment; Mrs. Joan Ricky of Bethalto, special events; Phil Lamm, training and safety; and Bob Burns, dive organizing committee.

Committee members will be assigned at Sunday night's business meeting, Morrison advised. Plans will be finalized Sunday for two activities arranged in February, the club officer said.

A council-wide seminar for diving instructors will be sponsored by the Bubblemasters on Feb. 22 and Feb. 23. Qualified divers meeting requirements as instructors who attend the two-day seminar and successfully pass the mandatory tests will receive diving instructor certificates.

Phil Lamm of Granite City, vice-president of training and certification for the Midwest Diving Council, will direct the instructors' program. Arrangements also are nearing completion for the Bubblemasters' annual benefit dance, scheduled to take place Saturday, Feb. 22, at the Croatian Hall in Madison. Tickets for the public event shortly will be available from club members, Morrison said. Persons interested in learning skin-scuba diving are invited to attend the club meeting Sunday evening, or contact Lamm, at 287-1975, or Morrison, at 281-0382, for information concerning a new series of classes, the latter said.

Assumption placement test slated

Eighth grade students who are considering attending Assumption High School in the fall are being reminded that the High School Placement Test is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 18.

Students who wish to take the test, but have not yet indicated this, should notify Assumption either directly (397-2786) or through their eighth grade principals as soon as possible.

The test is available for eighth grade boys and girls of this region. Students are to report to Assumption at 8:30 a.m. on the test date. At that time, a testing fee of $3 will be collected by the test proctors.

The test itself will begin at 9 a.m. and will last approximately until 12:30 p.m. This test is one factor in determining the course of studies best suited for the individual student, a spokesman said. Graduate transfer records and elementary school recommendations also will be taken into consideration.

MIDWEST/ERICKSON HAIR CONSULTANT WILL EXPLAIN HAIR PROBLEMS AT THE TRAVELodge
1200 19th St., Granite City, Ill.
MONDAY, JAN. 13
HOURS 1 P.M. to 8:30 P.M.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 9. Mr. A. C. Erickson will be back in Granite City, Ill., again Monday, Jan. 13. Now is the time to act on this great opportunity. Every man and woman now losing hair should take advantage of this CONSULTATION.

GUARANTEED
You will be given a written guarantee on a pro-rated basis from the beginning to the end. Naturally we could not give you such a guarantee if it didn't work.

CAN'T HELP

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which no method is effective. Midwest Erickson Hair Specialists cannot help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss. Even if baldness seems to "run in the family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of your hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair on top of your head, and would like to stop hair loss and grow more hair, now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

CONSULTATION
Just take a few minutes of your time on Monday, Jan. 13, and go to the Travelodge, 1200 19th St., in Granite City, Ill., between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and ask the Desk Clerk for A. C. Erickson, room number.

There is a charge of $1.00 for the consultation. All consultations are private, you will not be embarrassed in any way.

TV actress to appear at cancer ball

Word was received this week by the American Cancer Society's Madison County Unit that television actress Gunilla Hutton will appear at the annual Mardi Gras Ball on Feb. 8 at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant, Ballroom.

Invitations for the benefit ball are being mailed this week, according to ACS officials. Anyone wishing to receive further information or an invitation to attend the Mardi Gras event may contact the American Cancer Society office, 222 Henry St., Alton, or call 1-462-7821.

Miss Hutton, a skilled dramatic actress and gifted comedienne, appears as a regular on the syndicated television show "Hee Haw" which airs every Saturday at 8 p.m. across the country. Among several character portrayals on the show, she performs the role of "Nurse Goodbody." Many TV viewers will remember her as "Billy Jo" in the "Petitot Junction" series that ran for several years in the St. Louis area.

Gunilla was unable to speak English when she arrived with her family in the United States at age 7 from Gothenburg, Sweden. Her father, William Hutton, is a cousin to Barbara Hutton of the Woolworth fame.

Now proving a popular recording star on the Dial-Mercury label, Miss Hutton said her singing association with the late Nat "King" Cole provided her with one of the finest "teachers" with whom a newcomer could be privileged to work.

The late singer also sparked her love of live performances and the gratification one experiences in appearing before a live audience, she said.

As a television actress, Miss Hutton has worked in such shows as "Burke's Law" and "Perry Mason." She returned to her first love — the state — as part of Jack Benny's act in Las Vegas.

After a six-month run of "That Certain Girl" in Vegas with Michael Callan, Walter Slezak, Virginia Mayo and Dennis O'Keefe, she returned to Los Angeles where she appeared on several TV specials and in her regular role on "Hee Haw."

She loves animals and her hobbies are horseback riding, swimming and snow skiing. She works in active support of the American Cancer Society by participating in promotional and fund raising events such as the Mardi Gras Ball here. Gunilla is married to Allan Freeman, a contractor, and has two sons, Erik and Christian. As the 1975 celebrity guest at the Madison County Unit's annual Mardi Gras benefit, Miss Hutton will greet guests at the patrons' party and those attending the Mardi Gras dance.

Homestead exemption filing

Applications for "Homestead Exemptions" for elderly property owners are being received this month by township assessors in the Quad-City area.

Under state law, deadline for filing applications, which must be renewed each year, is Jan. 31, according to the office of Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse. In past years, however, extensions to the Jan. 31 deadline have been granted. The Homestead Exemption law allows a $1,500 reduction in the assessment of residential property owned and occupied by persons 65 years of age or older. To take advantage of the exemption, however, the property owner must file an application with his respective township assessor each year. The applications are reviewed by the local assessors to the superintendent of assessments at Edwardsville, where the reductions are made in the assessment records.

In all instances, township assessors of Granite City, Venice, Nameeki and Chouteau Township have mailed application forms to those who have filed for the exemption in previous years. New applicants, however, must notify the assessors that they intend to file and must obtain the forms either by mail or by appearing personally at the assessors' offices.

Applicants who have not filed in previous years, when appearing at assessors' offices to make their first application, must take with them their warranty deed to the property and a medicare or social security card for identification purposes.

Cruse's office announced that deputies there will take application forms to persons who are homebound by illness or are otherwise incapacitated if they will notify the office.

Similar assistance is being offered by the offices of Mrs. Margaret Reidelberger for Venice Township, Carl Macios for Nameeki Township and Otis Reeves, Roxana, for Chouteau Township.

Forms are available at all of the assessors' office and may be obtained by calling the office or appearing personally. The forms also may be obtained from the office of James Barton, superintendent of assessments, at Edwardsville.

He became ill at home and was taken by ambulance to the hospital. Born in Poland, Mr. Guzy resided in East St. Louis for 60 years and moved to Missouri eight years ago.

He retired from Swift and Co., East St. Louis, as a supervisor after 32 years service. A member of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Independence, Mr. Guzy was a former member of the Polish Roman Catholic Union, Polish National Alliance, East St. Louis Council of Knights of Columbus 592 and St. Vincent DePaul Society.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Rose D. (Suzanne) Guzy; two daughters, Mrs. William (Eleanor) Tulka of Madison, Mrs. Charles (Dorothy) Harvey of Independence; two sons, Stanley W. Guzy Jr. of Garden Grove, Calif., and Joseph W. Guzy of Granite City; half-brothers, John Libra of Poland and Anthony Libra of Thorndike, Mass.; half-sister, Mrs. Julia Bohnak of Caseyville, Ill.; eleven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

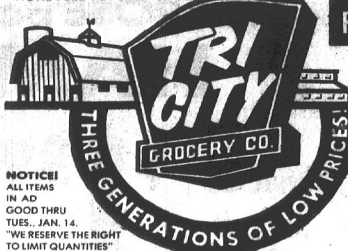

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Rock breaks bone

Nancy Summers, 11, of 2816 Marshall Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a broken cheek bone and other injuries after a young boy, 11 or 12 years of age, threw rocks at her while she was walking in the alley between the 2700 blocks of Marshall and Buxton avenues.

One rock struck her right thigh and another struck the right side of her face where it broke the bone and a blood clot formed. She was treated for two cuts near her right eye and X-rays were taken.

New jobs created at Metal Services

Completion of a 40,000 square-foot annex at a cost of $1,000,000 to the Metal Services Division of Piper Industries Inc., 9 Fox Industrial Park, Madison, has resulted in the addition of 14 new jobs, it was announced this week.

The Madison plant converts primary mill coils into narrow coils and sheets for use in the auto industry and for appliances.

A new slitter dual head operation doubles the plant capacity and has created the new jobs.

The new annex also gives the local plant more storage area and a larger shipping area, according to James W. Murphy, general manager.

Metal Services has been located in Madison for seven years and four years ago was acquired by Piper Industries which operates similar plants in Memphis and Greenville, Tenn.

Lindberg assails slow state payment of bills

Comptroller George W. Lindberg yesterday announced formation of a 10-member task force from the comptroller's staff to find solutions to the problem of slow payment by the state of its bills.

Lindberg has asked all state officials and agency heads to aid in the effort.

"There are delays in processing bills at the agency level in Illinois of up to 60 days and more. This is a disgrace. If taxpayers at home paid their bills that slowly, the bill collectors would hound them relentlessly," he asserted.

"At a time when it costs Illinois businessmen 11 or 12 per cent to borrow money to carry the state on their shoulders, it is mandatory that we speed our payments to them," Lindberg said.

"I have assembled a task force that will attempt to create a new awareness in the ranks of state government to spur faster payments."

The first step in the drive to speed up payments is a 10-point questionnaire sent to all state officers, agency and code department heads, geared to pinpoint problem areas in the slow-payment situation.

Lindberg said his task force will, in cooperation with state agencies, work to establish standards for processing vendor invoices at all levels of state government.

Chief Veizer included on seminar panel

Granite City Chief of Police Ron Veizer is among the panelists participating in a seminar on Crime and the Elderly in St. Louis this evening and tomorrow.

The seminar is sponsored by the National Retired Teachers' Association and the American Association of Retired Persons, Crime Prevention section.

The keynote speaker for tonight will be a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Panel discussions tomorrow will include the topics, Looking In On Aging, Understanding the Elderly, The Elderly as Victims of Crimes, How You Can Help the Elderly and How the Elderly Can Help You.

To my friends of the Quad-Cities:

It is with great heartfelt and sincere regret that I inform you of my recent voluntary departure from my affiliation with the Mercer Mortuary of Granite City.

It has been with a great deal of pride, gratification and honor to have been able to serve you these many years, and I hope it will be possible to serve you again; soon.

Sincerely,
Bob Thomas

The School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor a one-day workshop Jan. 30 for nurses who wish to learn more about law. The workshop will be held in the Madison Room of the SIUE University Center from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Dr. Helen Creighton, who holds degrees in both nursing and law, will be the instructor. She is a member of the University of Wisconsin faculty and is the author of "Law Every Nurse Should Know."

Objective of the workshop is to show the importance of legislation regarding nursing, to emphasize an appeal for updating the Nurse Practice Act in Illinois, to clarify the terms "negligence" and "malpractice," and to explain what liability means for the practicing nurse.

Persons interested in the field of nursing are invited to attend. Fee for the workshop is $8, and registration ends Jan. 23.

Veterans to get dividends

Illinois veterans will receive $17,721,000 insurance dividends in 1975 from the Veterans Administration. Dividends will be paid on the anniversary date of policies now in force to 343,987 state veterans.

Dividends are on policies from World War I, World War II and for the first time this year, the Korean Conflict.

There are 5,917 veterans of World War I who have retained their policies and will share in the $1,066,000 with an average payment of $180.

World War II veterans in Illinois number 196,475 and will receive an average of $81 from a state total of $16,236,000.

Korean veterans will receive a smaller amount, averaging about $11. Total amount of the dividend for Illinois is $419,000 to be shared by 38,575 veterans.

All payments are automatic and veterans do not need to make application for them.

Park to issue cards Saturday

Granite City Park District residents may secure identification cards between 9 and 11 a.m. Saturday at the Wilson Park Rink.

The cards, which cost 75 cents each, permit the bearer to participate in park district activities at reduced rates.

Those applying for a plasticized ID card must present proof of residency, such as a receipted utility bill. Harold Brown, district superintendent, said.

30 baskets given out by Catholic Charities

Because of generous donations, Quad-Cities Catholic Charities, 2012 Delmar Ave., were able to give out 30 holiday baskets packed with "goodies," canned goods, toys, dolls and candy. Each recipient also received a meat order, a spokesman for the group said this week.

Girl Scout Troops from Neighborhood Five, St. Margaret Mary Grade School and St. Mary's Grade School in Madison gave Catholic Charities large amounts of canned food.

"Many other organizations and private individuals gave contributions also, making this all possible," the spokesman related.

"Through the help received, the holidays were made happier for many families."

New skate school to start at rink

Youngsters, 5 years and older, who reside within the Granite City Park District and want to learn to ice skate may register at the Wilson Park rink for a new "Skate School."

The instructional program is scheduled to be held each Saturday morning. Further information about the skating lessons may be obtained by calling the rink at 877-2549.

Survey of local needs has goal of improved services

A survey of needs and priorities in the Quad-Cities will be launched early in 1975 by the Tri-Cities Area United Way (TCUW) with the help of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

S. T. "Pete" Nasir of Granite City, executive director of the local United Way organization, has announced that the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center (DSYD) of SIUE will direct the evaluation study in Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell.

Supervising the study will be Duane Bridenbaugh, an instructor in human services at SIUE.

Bridenbaugh has explained that the DSYD has a public service responsibility and is responding to a request from the TCUW board of directors on behalf of the local community.

He said at least 1,000 mail questionnaires and 100 personal interviews will be used in the survey of the communities.

The project is expected to take six months, and it will be followed by a long-term — two to three years — evaluation of the "Yund organization's programs and operations."

"It will be a team effort to find out where they are and where they should be," Bridenbaugh said. "The sole purpose is to try to better meet the needs of the specific communities."

Eighteen agencies are included in the Tri-Cities United Way.

The organization has been successful in meeting its annual fund goals for the past two years. The goal of $425,000 for 1974 was exceeded by $36,625.

Nasir said he is interested in exploring "priorities planning" as a means of allocating resources to agencies in the TCUW.

As proposed by SIUE, "the priorities approach to allocation is an attempt to more rationally and more completely relate community services to community needs."

Bridenbaugh explained: "While priorities planning sounds logical, rational and desirable, both Director Nasir and our staff recognized that such an approach is not one that can be imposed on a United Way organization.

"Before such an approach can be seriously considered, the social, political and economic characteristics of each community must be thoroughly considered by the board and community leaders."

"Likewise, the reactions of agencies, their boards and residents of the community in general must also be involved in discussions and decisions related to priorities planning."

Bridenbaugh said interest in a priorities approach to funding allocations can be traced to an increasing public demand for accountability, a growing emphasis on program evaluation, and the current economic dilemma of high inflation and shrinking incomes for community-sponsored services.

Bridenbaugh cautioned that the survey and evaluation program is not aimed at any one agency or any group of agencies.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 9, 1975 Page 19

"We'll be looking at the total organization," he said, "and our aim is to offer recommendations which will help the overall operation better meet the specific needs of the communities involved."

Nasir said several other United Way organizations in major cities have completed evaluation studies.

He said a need for "priorities planning" has been seen because many United Way organizations allocate resources to agencies on a case-by-case method. With this approach, allocation is based largely on tradition and past levels of funding, he explained.

"With a comprehensive evaluation and planning by all agencies and the United Way organization itself, we believe we can better allocate resources on the basis of ranked community needs," Nasir said. "Our real purpose is simply to give the community better service."

Crackdown on E. St. Louis landfill site

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency this week charged the city of East St. Louis with operation of a landfill site at 2001 Mississippi Ave. without the necessary permit.

The case, part of a statewide compliance effort aimed at insuring proper operation of solid waste management sites, was prepared by a state EPA and filed before the Illinois Pollution Control Board.

Richard H. Briceland, director of the Illinois EPA, said this case and others of its sort are designed to protect Illinois citizens from problems that accompany improperly operated landfills or illegal garbage dumps.

"Garbage dumps can pollute the air and water and can serve as breeding areas for rats, mice and insects. These dumps are not safe, not healthy and not pleasant to look at," Briceland said.

"These permits provide the best way to achieve compliance with state pollution control regulations. With them, we can be certain that a site develops and operates in the most environmentally sound manner."

"We intend to make these dumps a thing of the past. We intend to take legal action against all sites operating without a permit in violation of the law."

The Illinois EPA is asking the Pollution Control Board to impose a fine of up to $10,000 for the alleged violation and up to $1,000 for each day it continues.

Gun is fired

Billy Joe King, 19, of 4120 Melrose Ave., was charged with discharging a firearm within the city limits after he allegedly shot a pistol near two young women who were walking in the 1200 block of Twenty-seventh Street at 4:25 p.m. Monday.

Mitzi Daniel, 2441 Edison Ave., said she and a friend were walking home when an old red pickup truck passed them and a passenger reached out a window with a pistol in his hand and fired a shot near them.

Police were given a description of the truck and made the arrest a short time later.

It could not be determined how entry was gained. A safe in the office was opened and four bank bags containing $700 were taken. A cash box also was looted of $271, and $25 in change was taken from each of three cash drawers behind the counter. The drawers were left on the floor.

An undetermined number of truck spark plugs also were stolen from a shelf. An inventory was to be conducted to determine if anything else was taken.

OPERATION AWARE, 1975: A&P CUTS FOOD PRICES

1. PRICE CUTS ON STAPLES.

A&P starts the New Year by cutting the price on A&P Brands of staples such as Dry Milk, Beans, Peanut Butter, Mayonnaise, Luncheon Meat, Fish Sticks, Spaghetti, Macaroni, Spaghetti Sauce, Cheese Slices, Frozen Shoestring Potatoes and other items that are important to a family's diet. So now you can get meaningful savings on many frequently purchased items.

2. WEEKLY SPECIALS TOO... IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Outstanding weekly specials to include meat, fresh fruits and vegetables and grocery items. And when A&P saves you money on meat, that really means something. Because at A&P, you know you're always getting fully matured meat that's cut, trimmed and priced for value. Take our beef, for instance. We sell only one quality of beef at A&P. And it's backed by our unconditional money-back guarantee and our Butcher's Pledge. That's the A&P Butcher's promise to always pack the better side of every cut down. So if you like what you see in the store, you'll love what you see at home.

3. AWARE LIST CONTINUES.

We're continuing our Early Warning System against price increases: The Aware List. Every week we will voluntarily post a list of price increases such as those received from manufacturers, a full seven days before we actually change our price. That gives you one week to purchase at the old price. And if we run out of the item before the change of the price change, we'll give you a raincheck at the old price. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items with the day of the price increase right on the tag. Of course, the Aware List won't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables, where markets fluctuate daily, items controlled by law, or advertised specials.

4. CONSUMER PROTECTION POLICY.

We're of course continuing our commitment to making you an Aware Shopper by reminding you of what every A&P store owes you and by informing you of ways to get the most for your money. Look for the signs in A&P stores telling you all the protection A&P gives you: 1. Guaranteed Satisfaction. 2. Exceptional Value. 3. Low Price with Absolutely No Compromise in Quality. 4. Rain Check Product Availability. 5. Product Freshness Through Open Dating. 6. Consumer Information. 7. Courteous Service. 8. Cleanliness. 9. Safe and Healthy Products. 10. Shopping Convenience. 11. The Butcher's Pledge. 12. Variety of Choice and 13. People to People Communication.

B. O. Cooper rites held

Private funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Valhalla Mausoleum in Belleville for B. O. Cooper, 60, former Illinois state auditor and former president of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

Mr. Cooper died Monday at the Illinois Masonic Home in Sullivan where he had been a resident for the last two years. He was involved in a traffic accident in 1966.

He began his political career in 1926 as assistant engineer for the city of East St. Louis. He served as president of the levee district from 1940 to 1944.

He joined the staff of Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett in January 1945, serving as chief clerk. He was elected auditor of public accounts in 1948 and was defeated for reelection in 1952.

Mr. Cooper left the Democratic party to run for state senator on the Republican ballot in 1958, but lost. He ran again in 1960 and lost.

He returned to work at the state capital in 1965 when he was appointed Civil Defense director for the then Secretary of State Paul Powell, leaving that position in 1966.

Mr. Cooper is survived by a son, Lawrence O. Cooper of Belleville, and a sister, Mrs. Garnet Rousio of Troy.

Named to study discrimination in insurance

Illinois Insurance Director Robert B. Wilcox on Tuesday announced the appointment of an assistant for urban affairs in the Department of Insurance, Alexander P. Robinson.

Wilcox said, "This appointment reflects the department's increasing focus on the insurance concerns of Illinois consumers, including areas of possible race, sex and economic discriminatory practices by the insurance industry."

Robinson was formerly assistant director of the department's Public Service Division.

Robinson's initial projects will include a comprehensive investigation of possible automobile rate and market discrimination in Illinois' urban areas, and research on market abuses in credit, life, accident and health, and disability insurance.

Also, investigation of alleged problems of minority construction contractors in securing from Illinois insurers the surety and performance bonds necessary for public construction contracts; and coordination of department efforts to increase insurance availability through the Illinois Automobile Insurance and FAIR Plans.

Robinson joined the department in 1972 as Chicago deputy in charge of agents' and brokers' investigation and consumer complaints and assumed his responsibilities as manager of the Public Services Division in 1973.

New session at teacher centers

Winter sessions of the area teacher centers sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will begin this week, according to Thomas C. O'Brien, director.

The St. Louis area center will be meeting in a new location, at the New City School, Westminster at Lake. The first session is scheduled tonight. Meetings formerly were held at Hanley Road Church in Clayton.

The first session of the winter at the Belleville center took place yesterday, when Marion Walter, a consultant in geometric thinking and visual art at Boston Children's Hospital, lectured on the subject, "Mirror Cards, Milk Cartons and Mathematics."

Belleville meetings are held at 8900 West Main St. O'Brien said optional graduate credit is available for the teachers' center sessions. Registration for credit will take place at the first two sessions in January.

The activities at the teachers' centers are funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation through SIUE. All sessions are open to educators without charge.

O'Brien said the centers are for "teachers who are interested in working collaboratively with other teachers to improve what they are doing in their classrooms with respect to mathematics education and children's thinking."

U. of Illinois courses offered in this region

Five courses for upper-level undergraduate and graduate credit will be offered in this region starting the latter part of January by the University of Illinois Office of Continuing Education and Public Service.

At Belleville Township High School West, two classes will be given — Educational Psychology E411, Psychology of Adolescence for Teachers; and Voice E456, Problems and Trends in Special Fields of Vocational and Technical Education. These offerings will be on Tuesday evenings beginning Jan. 28.

At East St. Louis High School, a class in Educational Administration E438, Instructional Supervision, will be offered starting Tuesday evening, Jan. 28.

Also beginning on that date will be a class at Alton in Music E320, Proseminar-Individualizing Music Instruction in the Elementary School.

At Brees, a class in Agronomy E322, Forage Crops and Pastures, will be conducted at the Clinton County Cooperative Extension Office. This group will meet on Wednesday evenings beginning Jan. 29.

To pre-register, or to obtain additional information about these classes, Quad-Cityans may call the Belleville office of Fred W. Steuermann, regional program director for the University of Illinois, at 255-3880. His office is at 415 E. Main St.

Permit to form new state bank

A permit to organize has been issued to the Cottonwood Bank and Trust Company, Cottonwood Road, Glen Carbon, Madison County, Richard K. Lignoul, acting Illinois commissioner of banks and trust companies, said Tuesday.

The state bank's total capitalization of $750,000 would consist of $300,000 in capital stock, $300,000 in surplus and $150,000 reserve for operating expense. There would be 30,000 shares of stock with a par value of $10 each.

Organizers are: Rayhill J. Hagist, Nashville; and C. Kenneth Anderson, James F. Barton Jr., Frank B. Hamlin, Henry L. Malench and Herman Bunn Winter Jr., all of Edwardsville.

2 men charged

Terry D. Gargac, 24, of 2347 Rock Road, was charged with reckless conduct and Noah E. Tidwell, 25, of 1714 Grand Ave., was charged with reckless conduct and lack of firearms identification at 12:25 a.m. Wednesday.

The pair allegedly fired a shotgun at a tavern in Pontoon Beach which they had been asked to leave earlier Tuesday evening, police reported. Granite City police reportedly stopped them and found the shotgun inside the car.

The two men are being held in Granite City jail pending court action.

Death due to natural causes

A verdict of death by natural causes, apparently a heart attack, was returned by a coroner's jury impelled by Madison County Coroner Mrs. Dallas Burke in the death of Jack Bond, 68, of Rural Route One, Box 1237, Granite City, who died Dec. 14.

Mr. Bond's auto and the car of Andrew Ballentine, Edwardsville, were involved in an accident at Highway 157 and Center Grove Road.

Mr. Bond was taken to Wood River Township Hospital where he died an hour after the accident.

STEAL 8 TIRES

Eight spare tires and wheels were stolen from pickup trucks in the Mathews Chevrolet sales lot at Niedringhaus and Grand avenues, it was reported at 12:15 p.m. Monday. The tires and wheels were valued at $480.

Airport Authority payments found to be entirely proper

The five St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority board members were informed this week that payments by the agency and related supporting documents have been found to be proper and accurate.

William S. Badgley, Col. Jack L. Giannini, Erwin A. Hankamer, William W. Schooley and Earl C. Seltzer were advised by Executive Director Arven H. Saunders that "following recent unwarranted attacks in the press regarding the fees and expenses paid for services performed over more than four years by John Robison and his firm, the firm requested Arthur Andersen & Co., its outside independent certified auditors, to conduct a complete and detailed audit of the firm's account with the Airport Authority."

"For your information, a copy of the Arthur Andersen report and opinion is enclosed. The report confirms what our own outside auditors, the State of Illinois Auditors General office, and the Legislative Audit Commission have already ruled — that the billings by the firm and payments by the authority were entirely in order and met accepted accounting practices — and also specifically verifies that all fees and expenses billed are supported by proper documentation."

"I consider the matter closed," Saunders concluded. The Sidley & Austin firm in Chicago was told by the Andersen accounting firm that "at the request of Sidley & Austin, we have made an examination of the fees and expenses billed by Sidley & Austin (Lehman, Williams, Bennett, Baird & Minow prior to Oct. 15, 1972, the date of their consolidation with Sidley & Austin) to the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority from Jan. 20, 1971, through Dec. 12, 1974, and of the collections thereof by such firms from such authority."

"Our examination of such fees and expenses billed (which for the period Jan. 20, 1971, through Dec. 12, 1974, aggregated $173,719 in fees and $49,818 in expenses) and collections thereof was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. The scope of our work included a review of accounting records and internal control, record keeping and reporting procedures utilized for accumulating the fees and expenses."

"In our opinion, billings from Jan. 20, 1971, through Dec. 12, 1974, for services and expenses rendered to the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority from Oct. 1, 1970, through Nov. 30, 1974, were:

"1. Accumulated and prepared in accordance with the normal procedures of such law firms, and such procedures were operating effectively; and
"2. Prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting practices; and
"3. Supported by proper documentation consisting of time reports, airline tickets, receipts, etc."

"All collections from such billings were deposited in accounts of such respective law firms and were not retained by any individual," Arthur Andersen & Co. certified.

William H. Avery, chairman

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 9, 1975 Page 24

of the executive committee of Sidley & Austin, notified the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority that "in light of recent irresponsible press stories, we requested that our outside independent auditing firm, Arthur Andersen & Company, perform a full audit of your account with us."

"The results of that audit establish the complete integrity of the financial relationship between the authority and this firm, and the documentary support for all the firm's billings for services and expenses submitted to the authority."

"A copy of Arthur Andersen's letter is attached for your information and files."

Steel import surge

Foreign steel shipments into the United States in November increased the likelihood that steel imports for 1974 will be higher than their previous year's total. Final figures for the year have not yet been compiled.

Government data this week showed that 1,925,000 tons of foreign-made steel arrived in the U.S. during the month. Since such imports reached 2,100,000 tons in October, this means that more than 4,000,000 tons of foreign steel reached this country in those two months.

By the end of November 1974, imports were running ahead of the comparable period in the previous year. Through the first 11 months of the year, they had reached 14,281,000 tons — compared with 14,058,000 tons for the same period of 1973.

During the first nine months of 1974, steel imports had totaled 10,256,000 tons, compared with 11,511,000 tons for the first three quarters of 1973.

In November, steel shipments from Japan were nearly 47 per cent higher than during the same month of 1973. Imports from Europe were up more than 27 per cent, those from Canada rose more than 31 per cent, while shipments from the rest of the world more than tripled.

After lagging for most of the year, stainless steel imports also surged in the fourth quarter. In November, they were 127.5 per cent higher than during the same month of 1973. Through the first 11 months of 1974, they were 28 per cent ahead of their previous year's pace.

MITCHELL BURGLARY

Food, milk, meat and canned goods, a jewelry box containing about $20 worth of costume jewelry, a .38 revolver, two boxes of ammunition, a wristwatch, a clock radio and personal papers were stolen from the home of Alvie Egbert, 541 Chouteau Ave., Mitchell, it was reported at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday. The missing items were valued at about $300.

Proposals for schools to cope with drugs, violence, vandalism

Retiring State School Supt. Michael J. Bakalis is recommending that the State Board of Education seek increased funding and new information programs to help local school systems combat problems with drugs, violence and vandalism.

He will leave office Monday, when the new State Board of Education assumes jurisdiction.

Bakalis will submit to the board a 10-point program resulting from public hearings held by the state education agency during the summer in Rockford, Chicago, Rock Island and Peoria.

"We found," Bakalis said, "that the problems are not limited to the schools. They are community-wide problems."

"Although student use of marijuana and alcohol and incidents of violence and vandalism have dramatically increased, local-level school systems aren't alone in feeling the serious effects."

"And," he added, "the schools cannot be held solely responsible for solving these problems. The social and economic reasons behind shattered windows at the corner grocery store or in the neighborhood school lie throughout the community."

He said the actions he will be proposing were carefully considered and were chosen because they offered maximum support to school and community efforts.

"While we don't pretend these recommendations are a miracle cure-all, they are a start — a beginning which could provide the impetus for other groups, agencies or individuals to add renewed vigor to helping solve these serious problems."

The 10 recommendations Bakalis will be offering the State Board are:

1. Seek funding for pilot programs in drug education.
2. Seek full funding of the Comprehensive Health Education Act.
3. Conduct a thorough study to find successful drug education programs and distribute information on these programs to all school districts.
4. Support legislation for stricter penalties for drug pushers.
5. Expand the services of the state education office's Health Education Unit.
6. Produce a film on drug abuse for use by local school districts.
7. Provide local school districts with information on security techniques and vandalism prevention.
8. Issue a concise guide to legal resources of local districts when faced by vandalism and violence.

9. Introduce legislation to provide funds for school security systems.

10. Produce public service announcements on costs of vandalism and the effective reporting of incidents.

These recommendations, Bakalis said, were among hundreds offered at the public hearings. The hearings attracted 600 persons, including students, parents, school board members, administrators, law enforcement officials and representatives of citizen groups.

All recommendations gathered at the hearings, as well as suggestions offered by school principals, were polled

separately, were analyzed to determine practical steps to take, Bakalis said.

He noted that two complaints often repeated at the hearings were that schools fail to provide human and supportive environments, and that drug education programs do not provide reliable information to students.

The school environment, some witnesses said, contributes to a lack of esteem and positive self-image, causing many students to seek extreme solutions to their problems.

Revision of curriculum and greater communication among students, teachers and administrators were suggested to improve the climate of schools.

Several students testified that they were "turned off" by scare tactics and inadequate factual information in the drug education programs.

They suggested that such programs strive to provide accurate, up-to-date data and assist students in realistically appraising the consequences of drug practices.

The hearings also found that drugs, violence and vandalism are not confined to any group, class or location exclusively, Bakalis said.

"The testimony left little doubt that — although drugs, violence and vandalism are not always related — they are community-wide in scope."

"Police and security personnel cannot do the job without a widespread system of community support and education behind them," he added.

COIN CLUB SHOW
The Land of Lincoln Coin and Collectors' Club will hold its monthly show Sunday at the Namoki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Ave. Among items on display will be a 300-year-old handmade European coin bowl.

STRUCK AT TAVERN
Answering a disturbance call at The Office Tavern, 935 N. Dearborn, police were advised by John Debra of St. Louis that an unknown assailant had struck him in the face, cutting him, and thrown a beer mug at him before leaving.

FORCE VENT WINDOW
A thief forced the vent window of a parked auto belonging to Mike Johnson, 2800 (near) Myrtle Ave., and stole metal case, valued at $100, a brief case, $60, and a calculator, $125, reported during the weekend.

Taylor retires from Ill. Terminal after 47 years

A. S. "Doc" Taylor, traffic manager of the Southern Region of the Illinois Terminal Railroad, retired under his company's pension plan effective Friday, after more than 47 years of railroad service.

He and his wife, Verna, will continue to reside at No. 4 Hallock, Edwardsville.

He originally had a difficult time entering employment with Illinois Terminal Railroad, working as a waterboy in the Bridge and Building Department from September 1925 to December 1926, and again from May 1927 to October 1927, each time becoming a victim of force reductions.

However, considering the fact that Taylor was only 16 years of age at the time, it was not unusual.

Finally, in August 1928, he managed to stick with the company as a helper in the Bridge and Building Department, immediately starting "buckdick" for a promotion, which he secured a short time later in the Car Service Department.

He remained in Car Service until January 1938, when he entered the Traffic Department at St. Louis. He successfully filled many positions in the Traffic Department since that time, and he made uncountable friends for himself and for the railroad all over the United States, associates recall.

Taylor's decision to retire "will be a loss to Illinois Terminal Railroad, as men with his loyalty, integrity and devotion to duty and to his company are difficult to find. His leaving the Illinois Terminal will also be a personal loss to me as he has been a longtime friend, advisor and co-worker," William A. Nelson Jr., vice president-traffic, commented.

Appointed as traffic manager of the Southern Region effective Friday was William D. James, who joined Illinois Terminal on May 1, 1974, as special traffic representative, coming to the railroad after more than 26 years with Missouri Pacific and its predecessor companies.

"James is both well and favorably known in the railroad field and we are fortunate to have his knowledge and ability as another asset to our team," Nelson added.

"As part of our continuing effort to expand services to our customers and to reinforce 'The Road of Personalized Services' in the area, Illinois Terminal Railroad has re-established its traffic office at Atlanta. James will handle distribution and transportation problems from that location."

Homes worth more today — is insurance adequate?

If you are a homeowner, can you say for certain that the fire insurance coverage on your home is sufficient to cover the replacement value in today's rising real estate market?

Increased building costs — together with other factors including any improvements you may have made to your home — are almost certain to have increased its value considerably during the past few years.

Meanwhile, if the limits of your fire insurance coverage have remained unchanged, you would probably be inadequately compensated for the loss if your home were to be destroyed, or even partially damaged, by fire.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, to be adequately protected against fire or other catastrophe, a home should be insured at 80 per cent of replacement value, assuming 20 per cent of the value is in underground improvements which would escape destruction.

In many cases, insurance at 100 per cent of value is desirable. This means that the face value of the policy, plus any increases by endorsement, should be the same as the current market value of your home.

Here are other insurance guidelines offered by the ISBA:

1. The insurance policy should include protection against a variety of perils, including fire and lightning, windstorm, hail, explosion and possibly riot possessions under tenants' policies. To be sure their insurance coverage is up to date, homeowners should consult their insurance agent or broker, the ISBA concludes.

2. The "HO" policyholder who maintains his insurance at 80 per cent of value is reimbursed at full repair or replacement cost in event of partial damage to his home.

On the other hand, if he is insured at less than that amount, he is compensated for damage only at the rate of replacement cost less depreciation.

3. The policyholder can hedge against future increases in the replacement value of his home by subscribing to an "inflationary guard endorsement" to his policy.

If he does this, the insurance coverage will be increased automatically every three months at a specified rate designed to keep coverage in line with replacement value.

4. Under a broad form "HO" policy, personal property, including furniture, clothing and other contents of the house are insured up to 50 per cent of the amount of insurance on the dwelling.

However, the owner should be sure that this arrangement will provide adequate compensation in case of loss. People who rent their house or apartment also can insure their personal possessions under tenants' policies. To be sure their insurance coverage is up to date, homeowners should consult their insurance agent or broker, the ISBA concludes.

GC township bills approved
The Granite City Council convened as the Town Board approved Monday night bills of $9,445 payable out of the town fund, and claims of $5,115 to be paid out of the general assistance fund.

Other bills approved by the board included $83 to be paid out of the revenue sharing fund for maintenance costs at the Senior Citizens Center maintained by the township.

Town fund expenditures included payment of $300 salary for the first half of January to Nelson Hagauer, township supervisor, plus $100 expenses, and $625 salary for the first half of this month to Von Dee Cruise, township assessor, plus $100 expenses.

Other salaries totaled $3,316. Bills included a $2,500 payment for the annual audit and a $952 payment to the Cochrane Wolf Agency for workmen's compensation insurance.

Bills in the general assistance fund included $1,315 in salaries; $215 in rent payments; $167 in prescription medicines; $826 for medical services and $1,234 for food.

Energy cost uptrend hurts buying power in multiple ways, Stevenson is convinced

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Energy made us and it will break us if its costs are not brought under control.

Overstressed, this is the thesis of Matthew J. Kerbec, who has been running all over Washington for months trying to get his message across.

Kerbec, founder and president of Output Systems Corp., Arlington, Va., has written to Presidents Nixon and Ford, bargained in on the summit conference on inflation, testified in Congressional hearings, researched and published his own material, written news articles, passed out reams of information and talked to anyone who will listen.

Kerbec believes Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Illinois Democrat, is really the first individual on Capitol Hill to grasp the implications of the "Kerbec energy theory."

"I've got to give credit to Senator Stevenson," Kerbec said in an interview with this bureau.

"He's the first to ask questions at hearings about the ripple effect."

As for the Ford administration and its ranking officials, Kerbec believes they have been inept in exercising the twin specters of inflation and recession and cites two reasons: "They don't want to admit mistakes, and they don't understand the problem."

Kerbec says he got to the root cause of the nation's troubled economy in the last four years of putting out his environmental reference publication, "Your Government and the Environment."

The research on biological and ecological systems demonstrated to him that "energy is a vital necessity for the maintenance of a highly industrialized economy and has the same importance as air and water to humans, animals and plants."

"This led to the development of a theory that explains why sudden massive energy price increases will have an inflationary effect far greater than similar price increases in any other commodity."

"These increases have created a number of economic firsts in the last four years," he stresses.

As developed by Kerbec, his energy theory states:

"An energy cost is associated with obtaining, producing and/or transporting all raw materials and products. These costs are multiplied and accelerated as they ripple through a profit-oriented society."

"An efficient way to destroy the value of money in a highly industrialized economic system is to inject that economy with a sudden massive energy price hike."

Kerbec, for a study, "Superinflation-recession - Causes, Effects and Cures," made some predictions based on his theoretical ripple effect.

His study released in October showed that costs for natural gas, coal and refined petroleum products had increased by $51 billion in the last year.

"These costs are marked up again and again as they pass through the basic and finished goods industries and spread through the wholesale and retail levels of the economy, finally appearing as a $103 billion increase in consumer prices," Kerbec maintains.

He saw businesses and entire industries being priced out of the market, followed by production cutbacks, worker layoffs and lost buying power.

Kerbec says this process "has the potential" to drive inflation up to 20 per cent and the unemployment rate to over 14 per cent in 1975.

Government leaders made two basic mistakes, Kerbec contends:

First, they allowed fuel prices at home as well as "new" domestic crude oil prices to increase in tandem with imported oil.

Secondly, they continued to underestimate the economic damage caused by cumulative business markups.

Last June 24, Stevenson on the Senate floor pointed out that Kerbec had written President Nixon "trying to call his attention to these economic realities."

"While some of the analytical techniques Mr. Kerbec uses may be subject to further refinement, his general conclusion is becoming increasingly apparent to millions of Americans every day as the gasoline pump as well as in the supermarket, and in every sector of our economy," Sen. Stevenson said.

As President Ford and his advisers and members of the 94th Congress prepare for what surely will be a great debate on inflation-recession-unemployment early this year, Kerbec clings to his "solution."

"The Administration," he said in the interview, "will have to clamp on wage and price controls unless it rolls back prices at the basic industrial level."

Former GC resident retires this month

Lee Lorentz of Bunker Hill, Ill., formerly of Granite City, retired Jan. 3 after 22 years and 10 months service with the St. Louis Terminal Railroad, where he was employed as a switchman.

He and his wife, Gertrude Lorentz, moved to Bunker Hill a year ago.

They are the parents of a son, Robert Lorentz, of Manchester, Mo., and a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Asbeck of Granite City. They also have four grandchildren.

Lorentz said he plans to do some gardening and follow gospel singing.

Bigger checks for disabled war veterans

Nearly 2.3 million veterans and survivors will receive 12 per cent increases in their monthly Veterans Administration checks and 6,507 severely disabled Cold War veterans will be eligible for $3,000 automobile grants as a result of two bills signed by President Gerald Ford.

These increases are in addition to the increased GI Bill education allowances that became law Dec. 3, VA Administrator Richard L. Roudebush said.

The 12 per cent increase applies to pensions for veterans who have become disabled from non-service-connected causes and to their widows and children.

Increased also were payments to dependent parents of veterans who died or were totally and permanently disabled from service-connected causes.

The payments, called pension and dependency and indemnity compensation, were last increased on Jan. 1, 1974, by 10 per cent.

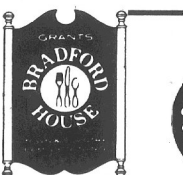

This year's 12 per cent increase began Jan. 1 and will be reflected for the first time in checks received Feb. 1.

The other measure broadens eligibility for automobile grants to include veterans who suffered loss of both hands or both feet - or loss of their use - due to military service between World War II and the Korean War.

Total cost of the two measures will be about $1 billion.

Limited area branch banking proposed by state committee

Initial recommendations for bank structure changes have been sent to members of the Illinois Bankers Association, according to William O. Kurtz, IBA president and president of the Metropolitan Bank and Trust Company, Chicago. The proposals were submitted to Kurtz by a special 16-member IBA structure committee chaired by Arthur P. Busboom, IBA first vice-president and president, Bank of Rantoul. The committee was appointed in July 1974 after a resolution calling for the committee's formation was adopted at the association's annual convention in May.

Among the recommendations, the report suggests limited area branch banking, contiguous county multi-bank holding companies and stringent home office protections.

The committee gave priority to the development of a plan which would "meet the consumer's need for more efficient and convenient banking services," it said.

Kurtz stressed that the report contained recommendations only — and that any change in association policy on bank structure continues to remain in the hands of the membership.

The IBA will conduct a series of 10 meetings on the proposals throughout the state in January.

"We anticipate receiving suggestions and comments from the members during these meetings. Our structure committee will reconvene again in February to consider all of the input."

"When the final report is completed, it will gain be distributed to the membership. Shortly thereafter, in accordance with our constitution, ballots will be sent to each member bank for a vote," Kurtz added.

The IBA president praised the work of the committee, whose membership was representative of all structure viewpoints and of all geographic areas in the state.

The 89-year-old Illinois Bankers Association has a membership of 954 banks located throughout the state. The committee agreed to the following recommendations on changes in Illinois bank structure:

1. A bank is permitted to establish one branch per year in the same city as its home office or five miles from the city limits.

2. A bank's annual allotment of one branch may be deferred and accumulated with the following year's allotment. But a bank can only accumulate one previous year's allotment at any time.

3. Limited Facilities. Operation of limited facilities may be continued under the existing facility statute.

If a limited facility is converted to a full-service branch office, such conversion must be in accordance with the provisions given above.

The privilege of establishing new limited service facilities will continue under the existing facility statute and shall not count under a bank's branch expansion quota.

4. Home Office Protection

The following applies to cities located in counties with population of 250,000 or less:

In cities with population under 5,000, the following restrictions apply:

A. In a city in which the home office of a bank is located, another bank not domiciled in that city may establish a branch no closer than one mile from the city limits.

B. A bank whose home office is domiciled within the city may establish a branch not closer than one mile from the home office of another bank within the city.

In cities with population of 5,001 to 15,000, the following restrictions apply:

A. A bank whose home office is domiciled outside the city cannot establish a branch closer than two miles from the home office of a bank domiciled within the city.

B. A bank whose home office is domiciled within the city may establish a branch not closer than one mile from the home office of another bank within the city.

In cities with population over 15,001, the following restriction applies:

A. A bank may not establish a branch office closer than one mile from the home office of another bank within the city.

In counties with more than 250,001 population, all restrictions are the same as above except for cities of over 15,001. In these cities, a bank may not establish a branch office closer than three-fourths mile from the home office of another bank within the city.

In the Central Business District of Chicago defined as follows: North Avenue on the north, Roosevelt Road on the south, Lake Michigan on the east, and the Chicago River on the west — no bank facilities shall be established closer than 600 feet to the home office of another existing bank. The home office protection of any protected bank may be waived by resolution only, duly adopted by its board of directors.

5. Holding Companies. A holding company may expand within contiguous counties subject to the following restrictions:

A. A holding company may own not more than 25 per cent of the total assets of all banks located in the home county and the contiguous counties.

B. Only one acquisition per year is permitted.

In the event of a merger of two or more holding companies, the units of the merged holding companies shall count under the expansion quota — and no future units may be established in compliance with the expansion provisions as stated for the branching banks.

C. In the event of a merger of two or more holding companies or banks, the bank with the largest total assets becomes the home office.

D. No bank of a holding company is permitted in counties not contiguous to the holding company's main office.

A holding company must divest within two years any banks located in counties that are not contiguous to the holding company's home office or of branches that will be in violation of the branching restrictions.

6. Miscellaneous Recommendations. The Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies shall not approve the application for a proposed branch unless he shall be of the opinion and find:

(1) That the capital of the applicant bank is adequate to establish a branch; and

(2) That the convenience and needs of the area sought to be served by the proposed branch will be promoted. The commissioner's office shall have 90 days in which to approve or disapprove the branch application.

A bank must make application through the office of the Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies to abandon or relocate a branch.

Applications for new branches must be accompanied by an investigation fee of $500.

In the case of a bank located in a distressed area, with the approval of the Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies, the bank may move from its present location to a new location, retaining the former location as a branch.

The resulting branch must be counted under a bank's branch expansion quota. A distressed area is defined as an area characterized by substantial family incomes and chronically high unemployment.

With 6th fleet

Navy Airman Thomas R. Smith, brother of Leroy Smith, 2820 Birch Ave., participated in "National Week XVII," a training exercise involving units of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

As a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, he took part in maneuvers designed to maintain the fleet's operational readiness.

STOLEN CAR BURNED. A 1969 auto stolen from Lucille Howard, 126 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was found on fire in the 200 block of Hare Street, Eagle Park Acres, at 9:55 a.m. Saturday. Venice firemen extinguished the blaze. The battery in the car had been removed, officers said.

Answer veterans' queries

Veterans and their families send thousands of questions to the Veterans Administration concerning benefits the government provided for them. Here are some of the representative queries:

Q — Does the Veterans Administration provide care for veterans who are unable to make it on their own because of age or general disability?

A — Yes, the agency maintains 18 domiciliary facilities for such veterans. Any VA office will assist in filing application for this benefit.

Q — Is it true, as I hear, that the Veterans Administration touches the lives of nearly half the U. S. population?

A — Some 47.1 per cent of the population are potentially eligible for the agency's benefits and services either directly as veterans or indirectly as members of veterans' families.

Q — What are some of the advantages of a Veterans Administration GI home loan?

A — The agency guarantees 60 per cent up to a maximum of $12,500 of such loans, no down payment is required usually, VA appraises the house to determine its reasonable value and there usually is a long repayment period resulting in lower monthly payments.

Q — The Veterans Administration has just turned down my disability claim, and I'd like to contest the decision. How can I go about this?

A — You may file a notice of disagreement through your VA regional office to the Board of Veterans Appeals, appearing in person or having someone or an organization represent you.

Q — When I was released from service about two months ago, I applied for a GI home loan, but a lender turned it down. What can I do? I need a home for my wife and family.

A — You should check with other lenders. Some lenders are not interested in making GI loans but this does not preclude the possibility that another lender in the same area will extend you a loan.

Q — I'm thinking of going to school under the GI Bill. Will the Veterans Administration pay me educational assistance for attending just certain schools and courses, or do I have a choice?

A — The school you select must be approved by a state-approving agency, but you can choose your own course of study; provided it is not barred by law and it leads to a recognized educational, professional or vocational objective.

Q — A service-connected injury for which I received treatment at a Veterans Administration hospital about two years ago is giving me trouble again. Will VA treat me again?

A — Yes, and since you have already established service-connection, all you need do is apply for treatment again.

Q — I'm a veteran in a state which has no burial space left in its national cemetery. Does the Veterans Administration pay anything toward cost of burial plots in private cemeteries for such veterans?

A — Yes, Public Law 93-43 (June 1973) allows VA to pay up to $150 in plot and interment costs of veterans not buried in national cemeteries.

Q — I bought a car six years ago with an auto grant from the Veterans Administration, and the adaptive equipment is wearing out. Will VA replace this equipment?

A — Yes. Since enactment of PL 91-466 in 1971, VA has been authorized to repair or replace adaptive equipment for eligible service-disabled veterans. Suggest you apply to your regional VA office for this benefit.

Q — I have a notice of disagreement through your VA regional office to the Board of Veterans Appeals, appearing in person or having someone or an organization represent you.

According to Secoy, entries may include accounts of the life styles, handicaps and potentialities of the disadvantaged; insights into the causes, programs and attitudes and private endeavors relevant to their lives. To be eligible, work must have been published or broadcast in the United States for the first time during 1974. All entries must be received by the Journalism Awards Committee no later than Feb. 1. Additional information may be obtained by contacting: The Robert F. No advantage locally in discarding cumulative voting

With the resumption of state legislative debate at Springfield, a new attack is being launched against the cumulative system, under which voters can back one, two or three Illinois House candidates with three votes, one and a half votes or one vote.

A principal point in defense of the unique cumulative method is that it has tended to help minority party voters have a direct voice in the General Assembly, while also encouraging stability and discouraging wide swings in the size of the two major parties' legislative delegations.

With Democrats soaring to 101-vote dominance among the 177 state representatives in 1975-76, the one-minority-member-in-each-district concept was circumvented in two Chicago districts; Democrats succeeded in winning as "independents" while others were capturing the two Democratic seats in each of these districts.

Although cumulative voting has been assailed as leading to legislative mediocrity, the proposed alternative of 118 single-member districts instead of 59 three-member districts appears to offer little to the Quad-City area and 56th Legislative District.

Since Democrats have a decisive majority here, the change might result in ending the service of Republican Everett Steele, a respected individual with the potential for highly effective Assembly service.

It is undeniably true that 49 of the 50 states have not seen fit to adopt cumulative voting, but at this point abandoning it would be a loss rather than a gain for this community.

Legislators should concentrate on substantive issues

The convening of the 79th Illinois General Assembly yesterday will focus public attention on many legislative and procedural issues in the coming weeks.

One of the topics that we hope is not lost sight of is the proposal of Senate Democratic Leader Cecil Cates to bar non-substantive resolutions.

There is no objection to the practice of commending individuals and expressing sympathy to widows and widowers. But such congratulatory and death expressions can be conveyed just as well through certificates of recognition" filed with the Senate secretary and made an official part of state records.

The 586 resolutions sponsored in the Senate during the 78th (1973-74) Assembly cost, it is estimated, more than $100 each to process, print and bind.

The change that is suggested would not only save tax dollars but also conserve Senate floor time for discussion of key legislation.

The introduction and reading of resolutions that are already certain of unanimous approval should not be allowed to continue clogging up state lawmaking.

Astonishing stand on steel shutdown

To the Editor:
Francis T. Mayo, Mid-west regional administrator for the federal Environmental Protection Agency, recently branded U. S. Steel Corporation's decision to close down the last of its Gary, Ind. open hearth furnaces — rather than pay a $2,300 per day fine for operating them — as an "abominable" decision reflecting "a callous disregard for the workers and the people of Gary."

There was an astonishing reaction, coming from the agency charged with fighting air pollution.

It was particularly remarkable, considering that the EPA had taken a hard line against an extension in the closing of the smoking furnaces going after the Gary mayor and the Indiana governor had indicated a willingness to accept a six-month extension in the interest of the thousands of jobs involved.

The EPA has been trying to shade down the offending furnaces for a year.

Their continued operation was indisputably contributing substantially to air pollution in the Gary area.

Forcing U. S. Steel to pay a daily money penalty to continue operation would not have made the air any cleaner.

U. S. Steel said in advance it would not pay a money tribute to government to be permitted to run the furnaces.

Nonetheless, EPA insisted on the fine as a condition of continued operation.

Thus, Mr. Mayo's indignation and criticism of U. S. Steel were the more remarkable.

The furnaces were shut down because of air pollution laws and the EPA's hard line on enforcement, and Mr. Mayo should say so, rather than blaming U. S. Steel.

If Judge Sharp of the U. S. District Court, who decided to permit U. S. Steel to continue to operate the furnaces for three months providing they paid the daily fine, had decided instead to shut down the furnaces Dec. 31, one wonders whether the EPA would have reacted in the same manner as it did against U. S. Steel.

Citizen role in education decisions

To the Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank you personally for the coverage of the education news from my administration during the past four years, as well as education news in general.

A consistent philosophy which I have held as state superintendent of public instruction is the necessity of involving the public in the issues facing education today and soliciting the public's input in the educational decision-making process.

By the coverage which you provided, you have heightened the public's awareness of the issues, as well as presented information to assist them in making informed decisions.

Never have I expected unquestioning acceptance of the policies and procedures of my office; debate on the goals and priorities of something as important as the future of education is healthy and constructive.

I have enjoyed the opportunity to work with you and your staff on a number of occasions in Illinois.

Drinking and job loss led to prison

To the Editor:
I've been convicted of armed robbery and am serving a 4-to-6-year sentence. Your paper covered the robbery and abduction of a man and his wife. I'm the ex-employee they spoke of.

On Oct. 14, 1965, I joined the Army. I had turned 17 on Oct. 10.

I went through basic training at Fort Leonard Wood and from there to Los Angeles as a clerk typist. I spent 19 months there.

I then volunteered for Vietnam, and went over Oct. 25, 1967. I returned Sept. 16, 1968, and was discharged.

After three months of civilian life, I decided to go back in, and I was sent to Fort Bliss, Tex. I stayed there as drill sergeant and instructor. I again volunteered for Vietnam, and in January 1970 returned there.

Going back to Fort Bliss in 1971, I stayed there until January 1972 and was shipped to Korea. I got back from Korea in March 1973 due to family problems, and was discharged from the Army Sept. 26, 1973.

I had an alcoholism problem. I couldn't find a job until a friend of mine was hired by the man I was later charged with abducting. The friend was hired to build a loading dock for a truck, and my friend hired me to help.

My friend had been one of the employer's truck drivers prior to this, and the gentleman was looking for another truck driver to put on his pie route, so I took the job.

I worked for four months and felt I wasn't getting proper pay. I complained and he told me it was the best he could do.

The job was $150 a week plus commission and I got paid $68 one week. I started back to drinking and quit in February 1974, a week after another driver had quit.

I couldn't find another job after that, and had even had to file bankruptcy while working for him. So I got drunk March 7 and all I could think about was that — if he had stood up to the front office — I wouldn't have to be going through all this.

I decided to go to his house and "trip him off." Being drunk, I had a couple of guys go with me to carry the stuff out of the house. Plus, I thought the money for the pie route would be there.

It wasn't, but all I wanted to do was get out of that trailer. It was too late, so I took him and his wife across the river and put them out.

I could have kept away from the police for a year or so. But once I sobered up I realized what I really had done, so I turned myself in, staying in the County Jail 30 days and then being placed on bond.

While I was out on bond, I was informed of divorce proceedings. I was determined to overcome the black mark on my name, and went to the Veterans' Upward Bound program at SUE, finishing my General Educational Development certificate.

Was to enroll in college if the court would let me serve weekends in jail, but they didn't.

I'm still trying to make the best of a bad thing. I've been here six months and was divorced so I've pretty much lost everything. I'm trying hard to convince the governor and others that for one mistake I've paid much already.

I'm trying to go back into the Army but need someone to back me. I've been perfectly honest with you. Can anyone be just as honest and say I still need to remain in Menard for a miserable mistake — a mistake that I would be ashamed of for the rest of my life even without coming to prison?

I'm now trying to get an appeal to go through. If I had someone to back me, I'm sure I could get my appeal and return to the Army.

I'm writing out of pure desperation. I need help very much.

Must develop fuel resources or cut living standards

By ARNOLD BOOTH
President, U.S.
Chamber of Commerce

Can a country go bankrupt? The answer to that question depends on what you mean by "bankrupt."

As members of the world economy, countries earn money by exporting their products and spend money to buy imports.

The relationship between these two figures — outgo and income — is called the balance of trade.

Money also flows into and out of a country in the form of private investment, loans and government aid, including military expenditures.

When this flow of money is added to the balance of trade, the combined figure is called the balance of payments.

When a country finds that it must spend more for imports than it is able to earn from its exports (or aid or investments), then it does what you or I might do under similar circumstances. It borrows to cover the difference.

The loans may come from private sources, but they are more likely to come from other governments.

If a country seems unable or unwilling to correct a chronic balance of payments deficit, eventually it will exhaust its international credit. At that point, the country could be considered bankrupt.

However, unlike a bankrupt business, a bankrupt country does not sell off its assets to pay its creditors. It devalues its currency.

That is, its money becomes worth less in terms of the money of other countries.

After devaluation, a country's exports become cheaper for other countries to buy.

Conversely, imports become more expensive for citizens of the devaluing country.

The effect — obviously — is to boost exports and reduce imports, to get the country back into a position of living within its means.

What happens inside the bankrupt country? First, the citizens have to get along with fewer imports, because they are more expensive. Second, more of the country's productive resources are channeled into making exports.

The shift of resources to export markets is likely to create shortages on the domestic market which, in turn, will tend to raise domestic prices.

"Bankruptcy" is much too strong a term to use for an economy as strong as that of the U.S.

But we have devalued our currency, and we have experienced the two effects I've mentioned.

Imports cost more now, and our exports are more attractive to foreigners, who buy more from us, which leaves less for us, which raises prices here.

Food is an excellent example. How are we doing now? Our balance of trade showed a slight surplus in October. However, it did not do so for most of the rest of the year.

For the first 10 months of 1974, we spent $2.3 billion more for foreign goods than we earned on our exports.

The larger figure — the balance of payments — has registered a deficit through September (latest figures available) although it is improving; we are not going in the hole as fast as we were earlier in the year.

The source of our problem is not hard to spot: Oil imports cost us $20.1 billion in the first 10 months of this year, compared to $7.8 billion for all of 1973.

That's why President Ford wants us to cut down on our use of petroleum products. It's also why we must develop the fuel resources we have within the U.S.

Otherwise, we will face continuing devaluation of the dollar, with resulting higher prices for nearly everything.

Our balance of trade problems are small in comparison to those of countries with smaller economies and greater dependence on Arab oil, however. Italy, for example, is currently being carried by emergency loans from other Western nations.

No one knows how long that can continue, and no one dares stop, since the collapse of one major Western economy could trigger a chain of related disasters.

That was the year that was

Editor & Publisher magazine

It is the time of the year — the end of one and the start of another — when newsmen for this reason compile their lists of the "10 best" or the "10 biggest" and that of the past year.

It is impossible to cite 10 events in the newspaper business that have been the most important, or the biggest, because it is a vast enterprise and new developments are being continuing over a period of time.

Most of them are "trends" rather than "events."

Also, it is impossible to put numbers on them in sequence of importance because the different newspaper departments while at the same time involving them all.

Looking back on 1974, however, we would cite these happenings as most significant in our business:

Economically, the rise in the cost of newsprint has hit everyone. It has been followed by stringent newsprint conservation efforts in all plants — narrower roll widths, tighter editing, etc.

At the same time, the recession at SUE, finishing my General Educational Development certificate.

publicity and fair trial-free press issues was in the ascendancy.

On the plus side, Congress overrode President Ford's veto of Freedom of Information Act amendments and Ford brought back the Presidential press conference as a declaration of "openness and candor."

"Open meetings" or "sunshine" laws were extended to 48 of the 50 states but only one of them are considered to be ideal.

The debate over a national "shield law" has simmered down and neither Congress nor newspaper editors seem interested in pursuing it.

It was also the year when terrorism hit newspapers. The Patty Hearst kidnapping was followed by the kidnapping of an Atlanta editor and threats against an Akron publisher.

It was another year of acquisitions and mergers, with Knight-Ridder being the biggest.

Two hundred and fifty-six daily newspapers accounting for 25 per cent of total daily circulation are now in groups, with public ownership.

New York City is still waiting for the reappearance of its projected new daily.

On the technical side, display terminals became popular and the "electronic newswoman" arrived. New York papers made plans to install "gee-whiz" equipment in their composing rooms for the first time.

The National News Council made its debut in January and December was involved in a controversy about its future.

Members of the Associated Press elected their first woman, Katharine Graham, of the Washington Post.

Members of the Newspaper Guild unit at the Washington Post-National News Council arranged for four-day work for four-day pay in order to help new management weather an economic crisis.

From abroad, news about the press was mostly bad.

In South America it was censorship and repression and confiscation of the press. From elsewhere, it was news of extreme economic difficulties.

Winter Wonderland 'Capital' offense—coke or Coke?

By BILL WINTER

How about a coke?

Well, lightning may not strike us, but we've just violated a rule: coke ovens are permissible with a small "c," but not the soft drink.

The trademark Coke is one of those legally maintained by the manufacturer by registering newspapers throughout the nation and sending letters of objection to those who omit the capital letter.

Whether the letters are intended to be read at face value is questionable, but the practice of writing them serves as a legal protection and is adhered to conscientiously by many companies.

Care of suede outlined

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser-Home Economics

You probably already know that suede is genuine leather. But have you ever wondered how it acquired the rich, velvety texture that distinguishes it from other leathers?

Actually, suede is leather turned inside out and buffed to its soft, velvety nap.

Suede — from the French meaning Swede — was named originally for the strong supple gauntlets of reverse leather brought to France from Sweden during the middle ages.

Pleasing to the eye and silken to the hand, suede is a sturdy fabric that thrives on use.

As you wear your suede garments, you'll discover that they take on a richer patina, and mold to fit your body with a freedom and ease.

Here are some hints on the home care of your suede clothing:

—Suede seldom needs dry cleaning. Brush it regularly to keep dust from settling in the nap.

—You can easily remove most spots and light stains. If brushing doesn't do it, then try a soft gum eraser, emery board or chalk cleaner. You can purchase chalk cleaners — in stick-form or aerosol cans — in household or notions departments.

—Have heavily soiled sueded dry cleaned professionally. If your suede garment has a label or tag suggesting special household or dry cleaning procedures, follow the instructions.

—Suede is waterproof. If your suede garment gets wet or rain-spotted, dry it away from heat. After it's dry, brush it with a terry towel to restore its original appearance. Brush the nap in one direction.

—Most wrinkles in suede will hang out overnight. If wrinkles persist, press with an iron at the "rayon" setting. Use heavy wrapping paper as a press cloth and press on the right side of the garment. Press with a light, quick hand.

—When storing suede for an extended period of time, hang garments in a well ventilated closet. Cover them with a cloth to keep out the dust, but don't use plastic bags. Air is good for suede. Like all leather, it "breathes."

Indian display in shopping mall

A special exhibit of "Indians of Our Area," sponsored by the Museum of Science and History in St. Louis, will be shown at St. Clair Square in Fairview Heights, today through Jan. 22.

The exhibit, which will be set up in the center court of the lower mall level, describes each of the seven chronological periods of North American Indian history and provides examples of authentic tools, weapons and crafts from each period.

Visitors to St. Clair Square also are invited to see the models of Indian dwellings native to the Midwest, maps showing locations of all Indian tribes, photographs of Indians taken in the late 1800's and descriptions of their social customs.

Another highlight of the exhibit is a scale model of Monk's Mound, an Indian temple complex at Cahokia Mounds State Park. Monk's Mound is believed to be the largest man-made earthen mound in the United States. There is no charge for viewing the special exhibit at St. Clair Square. The mall is open weekdays evenings until 9:30 and Sunday from 11:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Public must sacrifice if U.S. is to preserve its economic strength — Percy

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 9, 1975 Page 39

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., says both former President Nixon and the 93rd Congress were blind to the nation's deepening economic troubles. He hopes the new Congress opening this month will have the vision to enact necessary remedies in 1975, but he still counts on a "willing sacrifice" by the public to make them work. Percy faults national leadership in a television report to Illinois in which he is interviewed by Marianne Means, King Features columnist, and David Murray, Chicago Sun-Times Washington correspondent.

Percy finds a mitigating circumstance in President Ford's sudden transition to office, but he believes Nixon's successor has yet to provide enough leadership after more than four months in the White House. Percy was reminded that then President Nixon on television promised the nation, "There will be no recession." "What went wrong?" For one thing says Percy, Nixon's "game plan" didn't work. And for another, Washington was preoccupied with "a lot of other things." Presumably this included Watergate.

Neither the administration nor Congress saw the "grave economic program that we faced." Additionally, there were things beyond U. S. control, such as the quadrupling of imported oil prices and the bad weather that cut crops. These and other factors caused inflation to feed on itself.

Percy said that in the absence of "clear leadership" and an Administration program, there was no action in Washington. "In fact," he comments, "Support in Congress of the executive branch eroded month after month and there was no recognized leadership in the country then that had credibility."

"And Congress didn't initiate programs that were comprehensive enough and embracing enough, and there were too many vested interests that worked against our enacting the perfectly obvious taxes that we should have enacted against the excessive profits of oil companies, for instance."

As for his five-part program to save gasoline, including a fuel tax, Percy says there is a prospect of passage in Congress. "If we have the support of the American people."

He said this calls for a public willingness "to sacrifice" and a recognition that "we have got to do without some things today, to preserve in the long run our great economic strength."

He said he has discussed his programs with President Ford. In fact, he adds, they were introduced "in response to his invitation."

Percy rejects any suggestion that his program, for this reason, may be interpreted as "back-door" administration legislation.

On the contrary, he says, they are part of the Republicans' "crash program" to develop an economic policy that could be offered to the President.

Tranquilizers factor in emphasis on community emotional treatment

By MARY LOU MANNING
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities has been criticized for its emphasis on community-based treatment. However, it seems as if this is the trend throughout the country.

According to a report compiled by James Ragan Jr. for the DMHDD, Illinois' record in transition from institutional care to community-based services has not improved significantly from the national record as a whole.

For example, in 1965 nearly half of the nation's 1.7 million mental patients were in state and county mental institutions. But only one-fifth of the 3.7 million cases in 1969 were in these facilities. The transition to the community-based treatment philosophy was aided by the advent of tranquilizing medications in the mid-1950s, according to the report.

This medication arrested the abnormal behavior which caused the patient's ostracism from the community, allowing for community-based therapies. It also aided earlier returns to the community.

Federal grants for construction of these facilities were awarded by the federal government in 1963 via the Mental Retardation Facilities and Community Mental Health Centers Construction Act.

And the act was amended in two years to provide for staffing grants to help implement center services.

A goal of 2,000 centers by 1980 will not be realized, according to Ragan; the present number of centers is 546. Of this number, three are not yet operational.

Since the 1960s, the federal government has continued its work in the community-based area with grants for work in drug abuse and alcoholism treatment.

However, according to the report, not all of the work in the community has occurred because of the federal government's concern in this area.

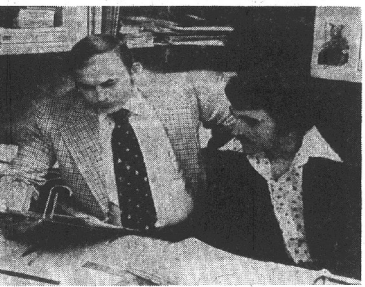

State and local governmental bodies also have increased their financial support of such programs. Psychiatric coverage offered by health insurance companies has been changed to allow more people to obtain services closer to home, and the Medicare and Medicaid programs were implemented to include mental health care benefits.

During the 1965-1969 period, the number of outpatient psychiatric services increased from 23 per cent to over 45 per cent nationwide.

Over the period 1961-1970, the number of resident patients in state and county mental institutions decreased 36 per cent while the number of resident patients per 100,000 population decreased 43 per cent, according to the National Institute of Mental Health.

Spring barrow show Feb. 1

By DALE A. LAW
Farm Extension Adviser

The 1975 Illinois Spring Barrow Show will place more emphasis on economically important production traits than ever before. The 1975 show will be held Feb. 1, at Springfield. Entries for the three classes—carcass, premiere, and close Jan. 23.

A record number of pigs—more than 1,100—were fattened by 120 producers as the first step in eligibility for the three classes. Nine of these producers are from Madison County.

Pigs entered in the regular premiere and carcass classes are being finished on producer farms. However, 56 producers have directed one or two pigs to the Western Illinois Test Station at Macomb to be fed under uniform conditions for the show's test station premiere class.

For the first time in the show's 10-year history, only pigs that were tattooed for age verification during the fall of 1974 will be allowed to compete in the carcass class of the show. In addition, increased emphasis is being placed on the premiere and test station premiere classes. Final placings in these classes depend on growth rate, as well as carcass merit.

The swine industry has made great progress in improving the carcass merit of swine in Illinois and in the U.S. And shows have made a contribution in this improvement. However, if shows are to remain a force for improvement, they must include other traits in evaluating swine.

SIU at Carbondale will host a "Swine Day" on Jan. 16 in the Student Center Auditorium. According to Prof. Hodson, the purpose of this workshop is to bring together individuals involved in the swine industry so that they can gain insight on changes in the industry and discuss mutual problems.

The presentations are primarily based upon results from recent research studies conducted at SIU at Carbondale and include "High Moisture," "High Lysine" and "High Fat" corn for swine, "Reproductive Disease of Swine" and "Protein and Amino Acid Levels for Maximum Profit."

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and the fee is $6 which includes lunch. For further information these interested may contact Mike Reed, C-224 Woody Hall, SIU Carbondale.

The Annual Madison County Agromony Day will be held Friday, Jan. 17 in the Farm Bureau Auditorium in Edwardsville. The morning program will be devoted to a slide presentation and a panel of area farmers discussing the pros and cons of double cropping. In the afternoon Prof. Knake, U of I weed specialist, will discuss weed control, and Prof. Wedberg, U of I insect specialist, will discuss insect control. All Madison County farmers are invited.

With hunting season drawing to a close in the next few days, many farmers and their sons are trying to get in a few more hunting trips. Most hunters are very careful with their firearms in the field, but some become careless at home. Always remember that "gun safety is a family affair" and that 80 per cent of all gun accidents happen in the home.

Every member of your family should be taught safe gun-handling and respect for firearms. Family members should learn enough about guns to check if they are loaded or not, and to properly match the right ammunition with the right gun.

Always point the muzzle in a safe direction, unload guns before entering the home and clean your guns after each trip. In this day and age with so many thieves around, always lock your guns in a safe place and store ammunition separately. Hunting is a great sport and a lot of fun, but a little carelessness mixed with it can lead to tragedy.

State reminder—income tax return errors delay refunds

Nearly half a million Illinois taxpayers will get their state income tax refunds late this year because of mistakes in filing out and filing tax returns, the Illinois Department of Revenue predicted this week.

Robert Alphin, director, said most of such errors are simple oversights.

"Last year, for example, more than 100,000 people forgot to attach something like a W-2 form, or they attached a W-2 form for the previous year's earnings," Alphin said.

"Nearly 35,000 people simply forgot to sign their returns."

Mistakes like those, he said, could delay a taxpayer's refund up to four weeks.

Alphin said the department expects that 12 per cent of the more than 4.2 million Illinois income taxpayers will make filing errors this year, and this would mean additional tax processing time.

"Accurate returns will get priority in processing, and refunds for them will be made promptly," the director said.

"Forms on which we find errors are pulled from the routine processing line."

"The special attention they receive—and this includes the correspondence we have with the taxpayers—and the sheer numbers mean additional time."

Alphin said taxpayers can insure prompt service by: —Filing returns before April. Statistics show that about one million persons wait until April to file.

—Making sure that W-2 forms and documents to support any deductions are attached.

—Mailing only the tax returns, supporting documents and any tax payment. Returns accompanied by any communication, even if it is a cover letter only, are sent to a special section where it and all others are read.

—Signing the tax return.

Alphin pointed out that the refund of about one of every four pensioners is delayed because pension report forms are not attached.

"In many cases, these are people who seriously need the tax refunds they have coming," Alphin said.

"We want to see that they get their refunds as soon as possible, and the pensioners can help by forwarding all the necessary reports."

Information and assistance in filing income tax returns may be obtained by calling (toll-free) 800-252-8972.

Readiness goal of state snow crews

Seeing snow plows patrolling the state highways on a clear, crisp night gives one the feeling that they're waiting for a disaster to happen. And that may just be the case.

During the winter months, the Department of Transportation employs the expertise of two consulting services, one from Chicago and one from the Madison-St. Clair counties area.

These consultants, professional meteorologists, alert the DOT when conditions are right for snow, ice, frosting, etc.

Once alerted, via highway districts under the warning and via the Communications Center in the DOT's regional headquarters, the snow route trucks take to the road — especially if there is an ice warning.

The problem with freezing rain is that it happens right now," explained Ed Kehl, of the DOT's division of maintenance. "If you're not there when it happens, you may not be able to get there."

If an ice storm does hit an area, salt and a combination of salt and calcium chloride are used to melt it from the highway, according to Kehl. Also, cinders or other abrasives with some salt are employed.

"We will use this method when it is raining and freezing the salt brine," he said. "The brine will dilute, run off the pavement and freeze again, so we switch to cinders and abrasives."

The DOT refers to storm warnings as "callouts" and, typically, there are more of them in the northern part of the state than the districts to the south.

For example, over a three-year period, the northern area had an average of over 50 callouts as compared to 16 in the south.

"Many times, the public is not aware of the callouts because they are asleep during the time," the official said. "They may be called out and return during a night."

The nine highway districts each employ snow route trucks to remove ice. They are equipped to carry chemicals and to plow snow.

To date, there is no shortage of ice removal materials — although some deliveries may be late.

Another problem encountered by the maintenance crew during the cold season is frosting.

Although there is usually no precipitation in this kind of hazardous driving condition, the temperature rests right on the border of freezing, and a high moisture content in the air causes bridges to "frost."

"Some areas, because of their topography, are more vulnerable to this condition than others," Kehl said.

"Our consultants alert us when conditions are right for frosting, and we send the trucks out for a light application of salt or abrasives."

MHS rules reviewed

The Madison Board of Education in a special meeting Monday night discussed and reviewed high school disciplinary rules with the school administrators.

Superintendent of Schools John Falchick said there were no changes in the existing regulations and procedures, but the review was held to clarify board policies and bring about a better understanding between the high school administration, teachers and board in disciplinary areas.

The board voted to change its regular meeting from Jan. 16 to Thursday, Jan. 23. Four members of the board will be attending an Awareness Conference by the National College of Education in Chicago.

A Madison High School student was reinstated on probation following a disciplinary hearing.

Effort to improve lawyers' services

All lawyers in Illinois will be sent a comprehensive questionnaire this month for a survey aimed at improving the quality and availability of legal services to the public.

With the cooperation of the Illinois Supreme Court, 25,000 lawyers in the state will be contacted in the survey.

It is being conducted by the Illinois State Bar Association, with the cooperation of the Chicago Bar Association and the Illinois Institute for Continuing Legal Education.

The survey is being administered by the Survey Research Laboratory of the University of Illinois.

Among the issues being explored are the costs of furnishing legal services, the availability of legal services to low income persons, and the attitudes of the bar toward prepaid legal services and specialization in the practice of law.

The economic section of the questionnaire seeks data concerning fees, operating and overhead costs, and the extent to which attorneys participate in community affairs.

The questions concerning specialization and prepaid legal services are regarded as of particular importance to the profession's ability to deliver services.

The findings of the survey will be examined by bar associations, legal scholars and legislators, and will be made available to the public.

The results could have a significant effect on the future of proposals for specialization and prepaid group legal plans in Illinois, a spokesman said.

The questionnaires are being mailed in early January, and selective follow-up mailings will be made to those who do not respond to the initial questionnaire. The Survey Research Laboratory staff has said that the best assurance of accuracy is a high percentage of completed questionnaires.
